Location: 600 Luzerne Street, Westmont, Johnstown, Cambria County, Pa.

Description: Large and spacious single-family home situated on corner lot. Two-and-a-half stories, hip roof with large front gable, wood frame, horizontal wood siding. Curved wrap-around porch. Wooden shingles cover second floor and gables. Venetian (Serliana) window in front gable. Art Nouveau bevelled and leaded glass in entry, and in transom above side bay window. Art Nouveau stained glass windows, oval in facade, and rectangular window at stair landing. Front and sides of house have not been altered, rear porch is enclosed. A wood-frame garage is built on the alley.

History: The lot was purchased from Cambria Iron Co. by John Schonhardt on August 28, 1908, for $1,625. By 1911, the house was built, as John and Mary A. Schonhardt were listed at this address. John Schonhardt retained ownership until June 3, 1938, when he lost the house at a sheriff's sale.

Project Information: This report was part of a larger project to document the city of Johnstown, Pennsylvania. The project was undertaken by the Historic American Buildings Survey/Historic American Engineering Record (HABS/HAER), Robert Kapsch, chief, at the request of America's Industrial Heritage Project (AIHP). An overview of history of the city (HABS No. PA-5669) and an overview of the neighborhood of Westmont (HABS No. PA-5671) provide context for these buildings as well as a comprehensive list of sources. See also additional HABS reports on buildings in the downtown and other neighborhoods.

This report was prepared by Natalie Gillespie in August 1988 under the direction of Alison K. Hoagland, HABS historian, and Kim E. Wallace, the supervisory historian of the project. Gillespie's and other project historians' work was published as The Character of a Steel Mill City: Four Historic Neighborhoods of Johnstown, Pennsylvania (Washington, D.C.: HABS/HAER, National Park Service, 1989), edited by Kim E. Wallace. Illustrations in the publication include large format photographs taken by HAER photographer Jet Lowe and 35 mm photographs taken by the project historians.
