LOOKING FORWARD IN ACTIVITIES

C. E. Shappell

The scheduling of the use of the auditorium for activities during the school year has been a difficult problem and practically every organization in the school has had unpleasantness in this connection. The music groups have consistently taken the brunt of the difficulties, not only for their practices, by foregoing the use of the auditorium, but also by having members absent because of conflicts with other activities.

It was recognized that the auditorium was not in use during the school day. That was not a help in solving the problems this year because the students could not be excused from classes to take part in activities. The solution can partly be effected next year by scheduling activities on the regular class program. To this end the students have registered their choice of activities and their class schedules will be adjusted to include the activities. A decision has been made to have all vocal music groups meet the first period in the morning; the instrumental groups the first period after lunch; the dramatic groups the fourth and sixth periods. The home room period will be limited to ten minutes followed by four fifty-five minute periods in the morning and two hour-periods after lunch. With this arrangement attendance in activities can be regular and conflicts can be avoided.

TO THE SENIORS OF 1937

We have enjoyed you as a class and as individuals, and trust that the enjoyment has been mutual. We have endeavored to offer you many opportunities for worthwhile development, and we believe that most of you have taken advantage of those opportunities. If in any way we have failed to do what was best for you, or you have failed to do what was best for yourself, we are extremely sorry. Most of us would be glad for the opportunity to relive portions of our lives that we might perform somewhat differently. That is impossible, of course. However, we should profit by our recognized, past errors as we live the present and plan the future. The following verse is written especially for you:

HONOR ROLL

Ten Seniors, nine Juniors, seven Sophomores, and five Freshmen, a total of thirty-one received places on the A-B list during the fifth report period. Those on the list are:

Seniors—Naomi Beam, Anna Ferg, Beatrice May, Christine Smith, Herman Strelein, Nancy Cohoe, Edward Depp, Elizabeth Thomas, Betty Succop and Mary Jane Novotney.

Juniors — Alan Alter, Sara Brickner, Rita Finkelstein, Peggy Mills, Sara Jane Waters, Dorothy Plikovsky, Ruth Ranklin, Gustave Margolis and Evelyn Yutzye.

Sophomores — Miriam Barnhart, Lucy Frank, Joanna Hager, Robert Miller, Bernard Rhodes, Mary Lou Allendorfer and Dorothy Beam.

RECIPE FOR A GRADUATE

First take one well seasoned eighth grader and clean thoroughly, mix in with final exams (very dry), garnish with green and hide away for about one year in a hot school room allowing to ferment.

Then take out mixture, season highly with conceit and expose slightly to a few school activities for another year. (All this time the mixture is loosing its greenish shade.)

Now—carefully take mixture, associate it more freely with the opposite sex, sprinkle with dances, dates and other spices and beat steadily for another year.

Finally take mixture mix with a greater amount of dates, season with dances, add a few classes (not too many) and one graduation. At this point one must handle very carefully as the mixture is highly explosive. Remove from warm school, place in the cold world, and serve.

Were I to sing this song again
You'd scarcely recognize it then,
For here with muted voice I'd sing,
Here upward surge—my song would ring.
Here I'd slowly sing my lay—
Loath to have it pass away,
Enjoying each harmonious chord,
Ling ring on each joyous word.

Rests there'd be for interludes
To prepare for changing moods,
And at the end, one long, sweet phrase
Swelling out through all my days.

Our earnest wish is that one long, sweet phrase will swell out through all your days.

Willard E. Ackley

EXCHANGE COLUMN

From five to thirty school and college publications is our record of the 1936-37 exchanges. A good many have been named and reviewed and there are still some left. Among them are:

"The Dickinsonian," published by the Dickinson College in Carlisle, Pennsylvania. The institution boasts of 65 years of college journalism and they have good reason. Congratulations and thanks Dickinson.

"The Juniata" a second excellent college paper hails from the Juniata College in Huntingdon, Pennsylvania. "The Tomahawk" the gossip column was especially enjoyed. The Yodler hopes to hear more of you Juniata.

Perhaps the student teachers had something to do with this for we have been receiving the "Indiana Penn" regularly. Its from "Indiana State Teachers College" in Indiana. The pictures are above par and the informality of the issue puts one at ease and gives keen interest to the reader. Dale High School's "The Herald" really is very good. It is a mimeograph copy but is unusually clear and good reading. The covers are always attractive and the editorials and "Aunt Alice's Advice (Advice to the Lovelorn)" are well worth reading. A Star for you and many thanks.

Sara Lou Daley has kept us well informed as to how "Pacific Coast" students work and study. The "Beverly Hill Highlights" is really a "star" in papers and we "Tenderfoots" sure do like it. The headlines are eye catching and even the girls in the advertisements are worth paying the price for.

"Rochester, New York has a high school in which they put out a paper worth talking about. They certainly deserve something for their fine articles, arrangement and headlines.
Sharon High School, Pennsylv-

THE SPOTLIGHT

Parading the school year before me I find that my vote for the most outstanding contribution to the school for this year goes to Mr. Ackley for his splendid work in organizing and developing the boys' and girls' choruses. Mr. Ackley devoted much of his time and energy to this task and was rewarded with great success, for the girls' chorus performed quite a few times before various organizations around the city. Their most successful venture however, was the recent Mixed Chorus Concert. The choruses were praised loud and long after the performance and well did they deserve it, although much of the credit belongs to Mr. Ackley. It will be noticed that immediately after the concert the mixed chorus was invited to perform at the Music Leagues monthly meeting on June 7. Westmont High School is very lucky indeed, to have a man such as Mr. Ackley. He takes an active part in all school activities and affairs and is well liked by not only the students of the high school but by the adult members of the community.

Congratulations, Mr. Ackley and may you continue to serve our high school with the same degree of fairness and equality that you have previously shown and may you have continued success in all your ventures.

Judging from the comments from members of the faculty and the Junior and Senior classes, the Prom was one of the most successful ever staged in our high school. The gym was beautifully decorated and the music incomparable. The committees worked long and hard on the Prom and were justly rewarded with widespread remarks of admiration. The Prom, however was one of the many successful social events staged and promoted by the Juniors this year.

vania has a very nice publication and we like it immensely. How about some more of the issues, Sharon.

Rita Finkelstein has been instrumental in bringing an excellent school publication from England to us. The magazine is from a girls school and is very well written and put together. It has that delightful English accent and language and our pleasure in reading it was no end. We extend our hand across the sea to you England and hope that a fine friendship may be formed and strengthened.

And last but not least to all you schools, whom we have mentioned and to those whom we may have passed over, we extend our hearty thanks and best wishes. Every paper that came in was read thoroughly and enjoyed to the same end. We hope you have the same success next year and we know and feel sure you will.

CLASS OF DECADE AGO IN REVIEW

The Yodler reports the following facts about members of the class of 1927.

William Bailey married Louise Lewis and now resides in Pittsburgh where he is employed by a wholesale meat packing company. Rosemary Bingham is a graduate of the University of Michigan and an investigator for the Old Age Pension Bureau.

Vernon Blough remained at his college, Susquehanna University, to become its field secretary.

Mary Louise Boyle, a graduate of Seton Hill College, is a teacher at Stutzman.

Fred Brickner attended Junior Pitt for two years and is now an electrician at the Bethlehem mines. At one time he served at Panama in the United States Army.

Kathleen Coll keeps the home fires burning for her father in Moxham.

Andrew Crichton, Jr. and Mrs. Crichton reside in Chicago.

Homier Dishong married Marie Wolf and now lives on Somerset Street.

Charlotte Dunkel, Mrs. Charles Armstrong, lives with her husband and two children in Florida.

Earl Eckel, a graduate of the University of Pittsburgh, is employed by Bethlehem Steel Company.

Verna Fulmer is the wife of our Westmont policeman, Ralph Herrod. She has one daughter Jean. Bessie R. Glosser is Mrs. Meyer.

BAND CONTEST HELD MAY 21, AT POINT

Friday, May 21, a mass band contest was held at the Point Stadium, under the auspices of the Johnstown High School. Due to the late arrival of the Westmont-Upper Yoder band it did not place among the first three winners in their class.

In the late afternoon the bands that were remaining for the evening performances played one number in union. In the evening these bands competed for the first and second prizes.

The four Johnstown bands drilled both in the afternoon and evening but did not compete for prizes.

BOOK REVIEW

"White Banners," by Lloyd C. Douglas portrays the Wards, an ordinary American family.

Hannah, a stranger to the Wards, charms her way into the family circle and guides them through the hustle and bustle of everyday living.

Lloyd C. Douglas, the author, gave up the pulpit to interpret living for a nation-wide parish. Other novels of his are: "Magnificent Obsession," "Forgive Us Our Trespasses," "Green Light" and "White Banners."

FACULTY TELLS HOLIDAY PLANS

The faculty have selected various ways of spending the summer holiday.

Mr. Ott will work in the Chemical Laboratory of the Associated Gas and Electric for the greater part of the summer. Later he and his family will spend a week at Virginia Beach.

Miss Landis is going to her home at Willow Grove, near Philadelphia, to visit friends and relatives. She also plans on taking short trips in her car.

Coach Engh will motor west late in the summer, but will be back early enough to begin football training the last week in August.

Miss Reiser will attend the summer session at Duke. Later she will vacation in the south and return north via the Mississippi River to Chicago and from there back to Johnstown.

Mr. Raab plans on attending summer session at State and then later attending the Great Lakes Exposition at Cleveland.

Miss Josephine Williams would like a job.

Miss Francis Wit had arrangements made, but due to her recent operation, will spend her summer on the corner of Main and Market Streets with a tin cup—so she says.

CHORUS BUYS PIANO

The Girls' and Boys' Mixed Chorus Concert which was held May 14, was a great success, making over one hundred dollars. This money will be used for the first payment on a new piano for the school.

GIRLS' CLUBS NAME 1937-38 OFFICERS

The Girl Reserves and the Girls' Gym Club elected their officers for the 1937-38 year. The officers of the Gym Club are Sara Brickner, President; Betty Glosser, Vice President; Peggie Harmon, Treasurer; and Betty Lou Rinebolt, Committee Chairman. The Girl Reserve officers are Sara Jane Waters, President; Dorothy Mulhollen, Vice President; Doris Fox, Secretary; Betty Glosser, Treasurer.

YEAR BOOK SELECTS NEXT YEAR'S STAFF

After a competitive examination, which consisted of presenting a plan and a theme for next year's Phoenician, the heads of the literary staff for the 1937-38 Phoenician have been selected. They are Howard Ideson, Editor-in-Chief; Rita Finkelstein, Associate Editor; Gustav Margolis, Club Editor; William Price, Athletic Editor; Sara Jane Waters, Class Editor; Virginia Wright, Drama Editor.

SENIORS CAPTURE MUSHBALL TITLE

The first half of the boys' interclass-faculty mushball tournament was captured by the Seniors, who are well on their way towards a second half championship.

The Juniors are dragging in the rear, not having won a game yet.

The faculty has not always been able to participate in all the games scheduled for their team, thus not being very high in the league standing.

TRACK MEET ENDS INTRA-MURAL YEAR

Boys' Intra-Mural Athletics advanced another step for this year's competition when the track meet was held Monday, May 24, 1937. Under the able direction of Mr. Robinson and Mr. Mellonay, boys intra-mural directors, and the helpful advice of Coach Engh, all events went off smoothly and quickly.

The speedy sophomore athletes, led by Carl Hipp, far outdistanced their rivals, the freshmen and juniors. Collecting a team score of 64 points, the sophomores were not near being touched by either of the other classes. Not only did they collect the individual points for first places, but also they came in strong in second and third places to walk away with the meet.

We must certainly mention the courageous spirit of Carroll (Hunk) Anderson who not only took first place, a second, and a fourth, but also ran twice in the relay. He ran first for the juniors giving his team a substantial lead, and then ran last gamely trying to make up for his team-mates losses which he nearly did.

The bragging seniors, who you remember issued a challenge to the lower classes to compete in the meet, did not even show up. Their only entrant was Charles Price who put the shot but didn't place. Certainly the seniors must have been saving their strength for the mushball game with the sophomores to decide the championship. We say they'll need it.

The track meet offered six events to the athletic aspirants of the school. Three of these were running events—the 40 yard dash, the 110 yard dash, and the half-mile relay. The other three were on the field—the shot put, the high jump, and the broad jump. The closest event of the afternoon was the shot put which was won by Bud Ailes only after having been tied by Carl Hipp but who won on the "throw-off" as it were.

Carl Hipp amassed 25 points to be high scorer of the meet. He took two first places, tied with McCleary for another, was second in two more, and ran third place on the winning relay team.

YODLER EARNS OWN MONEY

This year's Yodler subscribers were very fortunate in securing six commercial copies of the Yodler. This was a result of the hard work and willing cooperation of the staff to raise sufficient money.

Next year this burden of financing the school paper will be lessened by a generous contribution by the School Board amounting to $150, however, this should not change the attitude of the staff in complying to produce the paper.

PROJECTS EXHIBITED BY LATIN STUDENTS

The annual projects made by the students of the Latin department reveal ingenuity, and a knowledge of early Roman life. The collection includes battering rams, tablets, dolls, illustrated books, miniature temples, sailing vessels and a great number of scrolls.

The largest individual project was that of Joanna Hager which showed Caesar's fortifications at the battle of Alesia.

JOHN ("JACK") LAMBIE, RECENT HEADLINER, RELATED TO JUNIOR

The Harman family was greatly excited on May 10 upon hearing that a relative of theirs, namely John (Jack) S. Lambie, and the well known "Dick" Merrill made a successful Atlantic flight to bring back pictures of the coronation.

Lambie was chosen as the co-pilot and navigator for the trans-Atlantic trip because of his excellent knowledge of celestial navigation. "Jack" is quoted to say that the route from America to England will soon be a regular one.

SOUTHMONT PRESENTS EXCHANGE PROGRAM

On Wednesday afternoon, May 19, a splendid exchange assembly program with Southmont was conducted in our auditorium. Mr. Shappell first introduced to the student body, Mr. Ira Gross, supervising principal of the Southmont schools. Mr. Gross expressed his and the students' appreciation to our Girls' Chorus who sang there several weeks ago.

A quartette, composed of Jack Gilliland, Charles Snyder, James Geist, and Martin Fulton, under the direction of Mr. Fred Billman sang two selections.

An enjoyable one act comedy, "Elmer," was then presented by the Dramatics Club, under the direction of the Misses Weber and Wolfe. The cast included Jack Fritz, Rosemary Stafford, Mary Elizabeth Quikel, Margaret Roberts, Flora Ensminger, Helen Huston, Rosemary Gardner, Herbert Matland and Chester Byers.
