GEORGE WASHINGTON ANNUAL PARTY SET FOR FEBRUARY 18

The fifth annual George Washington Party given by the Girls' Club will be held February 18, in the high school gymnasium in the form of a combined George Washington and St. Valentine party.

Miss Greer and the various chairmen and their committees are planning a program which will fittingly celebrate the occasion. The guests themselves will come attired as "Ye Olde Dames and Gentlemen" of the eighteenth century.

The party will open with the Grand March, a brilliant promenade of colors, from which the best portrayed Martha and George will be chosen. The old time waltz and the stately minuet will be other features of the program. The minuet will be danced by eight Senior girls, who will follow out the delightful old custom of dancing it by candle light.

This year's party will differ from last year's in as much as it is for the Westmont Girl Reserves alone, while last year invitations were extended to all the Girl Reserve Clubs of Johnstown and vicinity.

The chief object of these annual parties is to promote friendship among the girls of the school.

ELSON ART EXHIBIT PROVES A SUCCESS

The Elson Art exhibit shown in the High School from January 19 to 21, proved to be a success both financially and educationally. $154.25 was made.

In connection with the exhibition entertainments were sponsored by the Elim, Benscreek, Sutzman and Westmont schools. On Friday evening Dr. Illick, the state forester of Harrisburg, gave an interesting illustrated lecture.

Many famous pictures were shown in the exhibit, including "The Evolution of the Book," which is in our own collection.

This series of pictures, located in the library, and purchased for the school through the proceeds of the 1922 Elson Art Exhibition, was a great factor in placing the artist, John W. Alexander, in the front rank of American mural painters. The subject, which is especially well suited for the library, is both illustrative and decorative.

It represents the first manner of the telling of some story, act, or deed until the present book form. The first method called the "Cairn," shows a group of prehistoric men, leaving a trace of some deed, by building a huge pile of stones. In the next picture, "Oral Tradition," an Oriental storyteller is narrating to an interested group of listeners his tale. "Egyptian Hieroglyphics," the third picture of the group, shows an Egyptian stone-cutter carving into the solid rock the history of some great Pharaoh. After this we see the Indians, "Picture Writing," a not altogether new method of telling a story. In the fifth one, we see a medieval monk writing out some rare work in "Manuscript Book." In the last picture, which shows the most important and most used method of recording, we see the inventor of the "Printing Press," Gutenberg, looking over some of the first copy-prints.

RED AND GRAY BASKETEERS TO MEET FOES

If scores or leading in leagues mean anything (and they usually don't) Westmont High ought to be "comin' through" her future games with flying colors. Let's hope Good Dame Fortune will be with the Westmont men in the future as Fendale, Dale, Conemaugh, Cumberland and Frostburg loom up as formidable enemies to the Westmont men.

In winning over Conemaugh, Westmont made a name for herself, but—and there usually are quite a few "buts"—one never can tell what will happen. Dale and Conemaugh loom up as formidable bulwarks on account of previous defeats.

Then, too, there's the "away" teams to consider. Mr. Savage and Punxsutawney made Westmont look rather foolish after their successive victories. Cumberland looks like a "tough customer" for Westmont on Feb. 18, but Frostburg on Feb. 19, looks "tougher." But, no matter what happens to Cumberland and the Westmont boys will get another chance at them on Feb. 25, on Westmont's own floor.

As for the team itself, the boys are rarin' to go, and the very team that beat Conemaugh at that. It is hoped that Westmont will be represented well at all the future games. The Westmont boys are waiting for the chance to show Maryland what Pennsylvania spirit and fight is. Westmont High hopes for the best from the Red and Gray. Let's be there 100% strong.

FACULTY AND SENIORS TENDER RECEPTION TO MR. & MRS. FALLS

A delightfully planned reception was given by the faculty and the members of the Senior class January 17 in honor of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Falls whose marriage was solemnized during Christmas vacation.

A very unique program was planned by the Seniors, the main feature being a mock wedding with Herbert Walker as the bride and David Englehardt as the groom. The music for the evening was furnished by Charlotte Dun-kin, Vera Fulmer and Verna Fulmer. Following the serving of refreshments, an electric grill was presented to the newly married couple by the faculty and a beautiful boudoir lamp by the Senior class.

Health Program Was Given Last Evening

Last evening a very pleasing style show and an amusing but educational health circus were given in the auditorium at eight o'clock. A variety of styles was shown on girls from the high school as models, while this program was interspersed with acrobatic stunts which were staged by the seventh and eighth grade boys from the Westmont grade school. The evening's entertainment, heralding a message of health, was sponsored by the Interstate Dairy Council, through its representatives, Miss Munday and Miss Swars, both of Philadelphia. The proceeds from the entertainment went to the high school fund.

FUNDS FOR TRIP TO WASHINGTON TO BE RAISED BY PLAYS

FUN NITE PASSES AWAY!

Senior Class Will Produce Four Plays, Feb. 10, 1927

Instead of the time honored Fun Nite as a means of securing funds for the Seniors' Washington trip, the faculty have decided to have the Seniors produce four short plays to be given at the Westmont-Upper Yoder High School on February 10, 1927.

There is no one activity which brings so much pleasure as developing and witnessing plays—and these four to be given are unusually delightful as they have been given by little theaters in various cities. The pupils are exceedingly fortunate in not having to spend their time and work in producing Fun Nite, but instead will have the great pleasure in witnessing these 4 one-act plays as they will be produced under the able management of Miss Greer and an excellent cast which she has selected. The girls of this class have had unusual experience in producing plays—for in their sophomore year Hermine Luebbert and Louise Stevens started in "Lend Me Five Shillings"; many of the now senior girls assisted in "She Swoops to Conquer"; Hermine Luebbert, Elsa Jahn and Mary Frances Tarr produced "George Washington's First Defeat"; and almost the entire cast of "Little Women" was composed of the Senior girls. Much of the charm of plays lies in the costumes and stage settings. Mrs. Harris will be in charge of this and beautiful affects are assured.

Another feature of this evening which is quite a novelty, is that the seats will be reserved. It has never before happened in the history of Westmont-Upper Yoder High School. The prices will be 35 cents, 50 cents and 75 cents.

"The Silver Lining" is a delightfully charming little portrait of the eighteenth century, composed by Constance D'Arcy Mackay. It's attraction also lies in its interesting historical exactness.

The play was inspired by the story of Fannie Burney and her novel "Evelina." It takes place in Cheshington, England, in 1778. The setting is Mr. Crisp's library, a pleasant room, however, a trifle littered with books and papers.

The part of Fanny will be played by Mary Frances Tarr and her uncle Richard Burney by Homer Dishong.

"Ete 'de la Saint Martin," by Mellicac and Holeyvy, or "Indian Summer," as translated by Barrett H. Clark, has found a popular place on the French stage since 1873, and has been acted frequently in nearly all of the countries of Europe. It has been played by the Comedie Francaise for nearly a half century, and remains one of the brightest and most popular of dramas of the last century.

The play takes place in Brigeville's home in a small town in Touraine, France, in the mid nineteenth century. The persons in the play are: Adrienne, Hermine Luebbert; Brigueville, Fred Brickner; Noel, Andrew Crichton; Madame Lebreton, Jean Kanther.

WASHINGTON

"This is the one hundred and tenth anniversary of the birthday of Washington. We are met to celebrate this day. Washington is the mightiest name on earth—long since mightiest in the cause of civil liberty; still mightiest in moral reformation. On that name an eulogy is expected. It cannot be. To add brightness to the sun or glory to the name of Washington is alike impossible. Let none attempt it. In solemn awe pronounce the name, and in its naked deathless splendor leave it shining on." Lincoln's Speech, Feb. 22, 1842

EVIDENCES OF SCHOOL SPIRIT?

Let your conscience, if you have one, and your apprehensive mass, if you know what that is, function in answering the following: (Underline true or false as the statement appeals to you as a mark of moral conduct):

- The Senior Class plays deserve the support of the entire student body. True—False.
- Each pupil should endeavor to sell at least (for the Senior Plays) two tickets. True—False.
- The plays deserve co-operation on the part of the student body—the same as Fun Nite. True—False.
- It is your duty to throw candy and chewing gum papers back of radiators, and on the gym floor. True—False.
- The Basketball Team does need your support. True—False.
- Rushing down to the cafeteria gives you an appetite! True—False.
- Red grades beautify a report card, and enliven the flare of father's temper. True—False.
- Since pupils who are almost asleep can pay better attention, all pupils should be permitted to recline at will. True—False.
- As night work keeps the teachers busy, pupils should demand more work. True—False.
- Goloshes are the receptacles for umbrellas. True—False.
- Loud talking in the halls while passing to and from classes is my natural right of free expression. True—False.
- Hard work in gym class permits pupils to slouch in the following class. True—False.
- To sell no tickets for the Senior plays labels one as an active pupil in the W. U. Y. H. S. True—False.

PRINCIPAL'S COLUMN

January, February and March of the school year may be truly designated as the months of the richest harvest for the pupils of the Westmont-Upper Yoder High School. For, as there are no holidays to distract our efforts, and the quiet winter evenings are the most conducive to deeper and concentrated thought, all that is needed to develop to the highest the latent powers we possess, is application, and a determination to do our best each day.

In this struggle to gain individual strength in morals, in health, in intellect, and in spirit, so that we may properly progress with the social world, let us not forget that our growth is closely linked with the growth of those with whom we associate daily. Hence, compromises, which we are called upon to make as individuals for the welfare of the class or of the school, will bring to each of us greater success and deeper happiness.

As a result of sympathy guided by intelligence, more thought will be given to actual service and less to selfish desires. And so gradually, each day will be a step forward towards reaching our ambitious for a worthwhile year, full of wholesome struggle, followed by joy in the attainments thereof.

DRAMATICALLY SPEAKING

The faculty of the Centerville High School will give a play in January to raise funds to purchase a moving picture machine for the school.

"Daddy Long Legs," a charming comedy in four acts, was presented January 18 and 19, by the members of the 1926½ class of Johnstown High School.

The Senior Class of '27 has won the approval and patronage of the people of Tuckerton by their cooperation and hard work, which they combined to make their first activity, the operetta, "Love Pirates of Hawaii," a great success.

The presentation of the cantata, "Christmas, Ahoy," by the pupils of Scotland School was the outstanding feature as well as the biggest success of the past year.

"The Trying Place," by Booth Tarkington, a one-act farce, was recently presented by the pupils of Glenville High School.

Abounding with lively songs and sparkling lyrics, "Front Page Stuff," the annual union opera of the mines of the University of Michigan, was presented at the Masonic Hall on Tuesday, December 21.

"The Lantern Light" is the play which the members of the Historical Times Club, of Coatesville High School, hope to stage and make a success of in the near future.

"Carrie Comes to College" is the musical comedy to be presented, about the last of January, by the pupils of Homestead High School. Much effort is being put forth to make it a success. Plans are now under way for an operetta to be staged in the spring, by the combined Musical Clubs and Dramatic Club of Concord High School.

The Junior dramatic classes of Parker Senior High School recently presented two very clever plays, "Never-the-Less," and "A Sunny Morning."

The Rice school play "Cinderella" given on December the third with a matinee and evening performance, was a great success in every way. The cast was selected from the members of Trinidad School.

"The Goose Hangs High," a comedy, given on December 9 and 10, in the Coatesville High School auditorium showed the result of much wholehearted and persistent practice.

THE PENCIL SHARPENER (Brings Out the Fine Points)

Miss Rose—"How big is your garden, Kathleen?"
Kathleen—"It's a foot big."
Miss Rose—"Surely you don't mean that."
Kathleen—"I do so. Didn't you tell me a foot was a third of a yard?"

Tancy—"Is late rising harmful?"
Bert—"It shortens one's days, I believe."

Herbie—"If I had a face like yours, I would throw bricks at it."
Bob—"Yes, and if I had a mouth like yours, I'd catch them."

Orotor: "I want educational reform! I want economic reform! I want..."
Horse: Chloroform!"

Owner—"You told me this car would last as long as I lived."
Agent—"Well—you have been luckier than I thought you would."

Sawyer: "Why does it rain?"
Brickner: "To make the flowers grow."
Sawyer: "Then why does it rain on side walks?"

Rusty—"How else could you express 'black as your hat'?"
Vera—"Darkness that may be felt."

Little Girl (at show)—"Mamma, when are the Indians coming on?"
Mother—"Hush, they are no Indians."
Little Girl—"Then who scalped all the men in the front seats?"

Miss Osborne (dictating Latin)—Boy, where is thy horse?
Andy (conscious stricken)—It's i nmy pocket, but I'm not using it.

Mr. Falls (in lab.)—Physics has helped to conquer the land, master the sea, harness the tides, and has mastered the air.

McCall—"Did you say it mastered the air?"
Mr. Falls—"Yes sir, physics mastered the air."
McCall—"All right, just jump out of that window and see who's boss."

Louise: "The man I marry must be square, upright, and grand."
Jean: "You don't want a man, you want a piano."

Mr. Belles—"And now we find that X equals zero."
Freshman—"Damn! All that work for nothing!"

Nat—"Did you smell rubber burning in school the other day?"
Ann—"Yes, what was it?"
Nat—"Oh that was Olga getting hot under the collar."

Cappy—"Don't you think Elsa's voice ought to be cultivated?"
Rosie—"No, it ought to be harvested!"

John—"What is H2O?"
Kantner—"Water."
John—"What is H2O4 (H2O4 for.)"
Kantner—"Washing."

"Mother, what is an angel?"
An angel, dear, is a girl with wings who flies."
"Well, I heard Pa tell the cook that she was an angel. Will she fly?"
"Yes indeed, she will fly away the first thing tomorrow."

Mr. Belles (in geometry)—Who can tell me what is zero?
Geer—"That's nothing."
Belles—"What's nothing?"
Geer—"Zero."

Mrs. Keffer (in U. S. History)—Why is it that when this room is noisy I open the window, the whole room becomes quiet? Why do I open the windows?
Campbell—"To let the noise out."

These jokes I know are not all new,
And some of them may not be true,
But let it not be heard from you,
I've heard that joke before, did you?"

Substitutions—Brickner for Sawyer, Kintner for Gurley, Eckel for Conrad, Sawyer for Brickner, Gurley for Kintner, Conrad for Eckel, Ashbridge for W. Samuel.

WESTMONT DEFEATS FERRDALE HIGH

Westmont retained her lead in the Cambria County High School League by defeating Ferrdale, Jan. 17, in one of the hardest games of the season. This game was played on the Cochran Junior High School floor, the final score being 29-18. Marshall of Westmont played a brilliant game while Widmeyer of Ferrdale also staged some pretty playing.

This game was witnessed by one of the largest crowds from both schools. The line up for the game was:

Ferrdale 18	Westmont 29
Widmeyer	F	Marshall
Mitchell	F	Brickner
Spengler	C	Conrad
Lear	C	Gurley
Henderson	C	Bailey

Substitutions—Stephenson for Widmeyer, Widmeyer for Stephenson, Stephenson for Mitchell, Sawyer for Bailey, Bailey for Brickner, Brickner for Sawyer, Sawyer for Brickner.

Foul Goals—Mitchell 5 of 9, Lear 1 of 1, Henderson 0 of 1, Marshall 1 of 2, Brickner 1 of 3, Conrad 1 of 1, Bailey 2 of 2.

Referee—Hanson.
Timekeeper—Steele.

WESTMONT-UPPER YODER BEATEN BY MT. SAVAGE

Westmont High School suffered its initial defeat on its home floor Saturday, Jan. 15, when Mt. Savage, Md., won by a score of 29-23. During the first quarter the teams fought on even terms. At the opening of the third quarter Westmont was leading by a score of 17-12. However Mt. Savage forged ahead this quarter bringing the final score up to 29, and Westmont 23. Only one of Mt. Savage's points was scored from the foul line. The summary:

Mt. Savage 29	Westmont 23
Witt	F	Marshall
Murray	F	Sawyer
Bannon	C	Conrad
Cunningham	C	Gurley
Farrall	C	Bailey

Substitutions—Brickner for Sawyer, Sawyer for Brickner.

Referee—Powell. Timekeeper—Metzner.

Score at End of First Half—Westmont 15, Mt. Savage 12.

WESTMONT DEFEATS DALE HIGH SCHOOL

Dale High School's winning streak in the Cambria County High School League was broken Jan. 14, when Westmont defeated them on the Westmont floor, 39-16. The Dale club dropped out of first place as a result. Westmont opened up with a strong attack in the first quarter and held a good lead during the entire game. In addition to playing a fine defensive game, along with Gurley, Bailey dropped in seven field goals. Two of these came from the center of the floor. The summary:

Westmont 39	Dale 16
Marshall	F	McClintock
Sawyer	F	Moschgat
Conrad	C	Thiele
Bailey	C	Miller
Gurley	C	Cuppitt

Substitutions—Kintner for Conrad, Brickner for Sawyer, Huges for Moschgat.

Foul Goals—Sawyer 0 of 3, Marshall 0 of 1, Conrad 1 of 1, Gurley 1 of 1, Bailey 2 of 6, McClintock 1 of 7, Moschgat 1 of 5, Thiele 1 of 3, Miller 1 of 2, Cuppitt 2 of 3.

Referee—Leiford. Timekeeper—Metzner.

FOOTBALL LETTER MEN FOR SEASON NAMED

A meeting was held recently in order to determine the football letter men for this season. At this meeting it was decided that letters should be awarded to Captain Homer Dishong, Lyncurgus Gurley, Charles Kintner, Peter Carroll, Howard Black, Clair Mowery, Andrew Crichton, Earl Eckel, Fred Brickner, Jack Conrad, Craig Longwell, Richard Marshall and Manager Sylvester McCall.

"WHAT THE GREAT WILL DO THE LESS WILL PRATTLE OF"

Thelma Fienberg visited in Pittsburgh. Sue Wertz entertained with a party New Year's Eve. Among the guests were Sylvia and Norman Rush, Donald Wertz, and Kathryn Lewis.

Sleep occupied all of Jack Conrad's time except the nights he attended all the dances and parties in the vicinity. Cornelia Rogers was present at some bridge luncheons and tea dances.

"Sherlock Holmes" played an important part in the cultivation of Shorty Crichton's mind. So as not to forget the existence of school, Kathryn Lewis entertained Sue Wertz, Rozella Morton and Sylvia Rush with a theatre party. They went to see "College Days."

The bright lights of New York welcomed Bessie Glosser, Lillian Kreiger, and May Finkelson.

There is nothing like starting the New Year right. Naomi Wainger did so at a party.

The three necessities of life, eating, sleep and going to the movies, were emphasized by Emily Thomas.

Martha Boyle spent her time falling off sleds. (We hope she found a soft place to land.)

Coon Ridge was honored with the presence of Ruth Saylor who visited there for several days.

"Nat" Suppes played with her little brother's toys.

Ruth Fire turned to hiking. (We suppose to reduce.)

Westmont High School was well represented at the Christmas dances.

WESTMONT RESERVES WIN FROM FERRDALE

Westmont-Upper Yoder High School Reserves defeated the Ferrdale High School, January 19, on the Westmont floor, 19-14. The summary:

Westmont 19	Ferrdale 14
Walker	F	Seese
Jenkins	F	Miller
McGrath	C	Shaffer
Black	C	Saly
McCall	C	Alwine

Substitutions—Yingling for Black, Pukeskey for Miller, Dick for Alwine, Field Goals—Walker 3, Jenkins 3, McGrath 1, Seese 2, Shaffer 1, Dick 1, Foul Goals—Walker 1 of 3, Jenkins 1 of 7, McCall 3 of 6, Seese 3 of 8, Miller 1 of 2, Dick 1 of 2, Alwine 1 of 1.

Referee—Kintner. Timekeeper—Longwell. Scorer—Metzner. Score at End of First Half—Westmont 9, Ferrdale 5.

WESTMONT GIRLS LOSE TO FERRDALE

The Westmont Girls' Varsity team lost to Ferrdale in a preliminary to the County League game between the two schools on the Cochran floor January 17. The Ferrdale sextet triumphed by a score of 23-8. Mitchell was the heavy scorer, making seven field goals for the winners. The summary:

Ferrdale 23	Westmont 8
Mitchell	F	Stiffler
Curtis	F	Stevens
Helsel	C	Tarr
Howard	C	Williams
Henderson	C	Slough
Davis	SC	Lohr

Substitutions—Smith for Davis, Gay for Curtis, Keim for Mitchell, Lecky for Williams, Porter for Jahn, Boyle for Lohr.

Field Goals—Mitchell 7, Curtis 2, Stiffler 2, Stevens 2.

Foul Goals—Mitchell 5 of 5, Stiffler 0 of 6.

Referee—Ober. Timekeepers—Miller and Steele. Scorers—Hettrick and Leakey.

"Horse" Gurley, Betty Harris, Louise Stevens, and "Jerry" Wenderoth at the Pitt; Julia Symons and "Jerry" Wenderoth at the Open Hearth; Betty Harris, Julia Symons and Louise Stevens at the State; "Jerry" Wenderoth at the DeMolay.

Vera and Verna Fulmer entertained a guest from Bellefonte. Among the social activities of the week were a card party and theatre party at the State Theatre.

Cleveland was highly honored by Elsa Jahn's presence.

Helen Delozier and Marjorie Redinger spent the week colliding with curbs and telephone poles on a sled.

Berniece Anstead and Florence Fisher read "Quentin Durward" because they had to.

Mary Schrahl visited in Cresson; Florence Pollock in Pitsburgh and Butler; Louise McClintock in Somerset County; and Rachel Van Pelt in Bellefonte.

"A barking dog never bites" quotes Howard Black. (How could he bite while he is barking?)

Warren Benschhoff is accomplishing much in the dog catching line. We predict a great future for him.

Miss Trine attended the Pennsylvania State Educational Association in Harrisburg.

Miss Mowrey spent an enjoyable vacation at her home in Spring City.

Mrs. Harry Benford donated to the Benscreek School, one of the pictures shown during the recent Elison Art Exhibition.

"The Rider of Dreams" was written by Ridgely Torrence as a folk-play. It was performed originally by a company of negro players in the old Garden Theater of New York. This is a vivid comedy, resembling the native Irish drama. In it the mysticism, the imagination, piety, superstition, humor, and simplicity of the American negro are introduced—the author having painted with sympathy and power these qualities of the negro people. The cast is as follows:

Lucy Sparrow	Elsa Jahn
Booker	Clifford Keifer
Madison	Herbert Walker
Uncle Williams	Sylvester McCall
"The Turtle Dove" is a quaint bit of drama acted in a playful seriousness in the Chinese manner, without stage setting. The back drop of the stage is painted to represent a Willow Plate and all the actors are in costume to harmonize with, and make the Willow Plate.

The story of the play relates how the hero, decreed by the God of Fate, must be known as a Turtle Dove, and have his image emblazoned on the shining surface of a Willow Plate. To avert this calamitous ending of his august life, Chang Hees, disguised, and hopes to escape the notice of the God. The chorus explains the story, announces the characters and thanks the audience for its interest.

Chorus—Rosemary Bingham, Chang Sut Yen; son of Chang Won Yin, the Great Ruler of the Province of Canton, William Bailey; the Mandarin, Lyncurgus Gurley; Kevin Lin, his daughter, Louise Stevens; the God of Fate, Roberta Williams; the Property Man, Josephine Whitten; the Gong Bear, Betty Harris.

The managers are as follows:
