DATE OF GIRL RESERVE BANQUET SET: APR. 28

Y. W. C. A. Have Completed Plans for Summer Camp Site

The annual Mothers' and Daughters' banquet will be given Thursday evening, April 28, by the Girls' Club, in the Social Hall of the First Presbyterian Church.

Three girls from each Club will be awarded the Girl Reserve rings, which stand for service, character, and willingness. The receiving of such a ring is the highest honor a Girl Reserve can hope to attain, and is the greatest ambition of every true Girl Reserve.

The Girl Reserves of South Fork will furnish the entertainment which will be in the form of a three-act play, to be given after the banquet.

The grade school Girl Reserves are planning their banquet for Friday, April 29, in the Social Hall of the Church. An interesting program is being arranged for the evening. Rings will also be awarded to the various members of the Clubs.

Another item of interest for the girls is that a new site has been selected for the Y. W. C. A. summer camp. This year it will be near Hunningdon, along a branch of the Juniata River, instead of at Camp Reynolds, near Mann's Choice.

The new camp will have many advantages and improvements over the old camp, including cottages instead of tents, classes for the swimmers, grading from those who are not able to swim, to those who are expert swimmers and divers, and a sand beach.

Another interesting phase of the camp and a new novelty, is a stretch of water suitable for three miles of boating.

The camp is open to the Y. W. C. A. during the month of July, and any one desiring to go to the camp, should call the Y. W. C. A. for the particulars. Other Girls' Club news is the Summer Conference which will be held this year at Kiski during the month of August.

Every year the newly elected vice president of each Club represents her school at the Conference.

PHOENICIAN CONTRACT LET TO TOWN PRINTERS

The work on the Phoenician for 1926-27 is rapidly reaching a close. The contract for the printing has been let to Weigle & Barber, Inc., while Valley Engraving Co. will do the engraving. All of the advertisements have been obtained by the great effort of the entire Senior Class.

The Art Department is mounting the pictures for in the panels and they are also finishing up the wood blocks, the pictures from which will be used to introduce the various parts of the book. They are working diligently and much praise is due them.

All of the literary work is expected to be in by the end of March. The Senior writeups and the jokes have been in for some time. All of the prize literary work for the year will be included in the book.

Miss Trine, who is the faculty advisor of the annual, is looking forward to its being one of the most interesting Phoenicians which has ever been produced by our school.

The loss of Miss Krebs as acting principal of Westmont-Upper Yoder High School will be felt very keenly not only by the students, faculty, and board of education, but by the whole community of Westmont and Upper Yoder township. Miss Krebs, having been with the institution from its earliest days, and having been principal of this high school for ten years, has largely made the Westmont-Upper Yoder High School what it is today in high standards of scholarship and conduct. With steadfastness of purpose in making our high school a fine training school for girls and boys, where good habits of industry, perseverance, thrift, honesty, courtesy, and respect for others, Miss Krebs has bent herself unswervingly to her task.

Ten years ago, on the second floor of the Stutzman school building, Miss Krebs began her work. She had before her the vision of a large, well run school. Slowly, but steadily, by the willingness and the sacrifices of Miss Krebs, she saw her vision materialize. A large, well equipped, and well regulated school was built. Eight years past, each more fruitful than the preceding one. Then, more space was demanded. An addition was attached to the already large school building. The new addition, with all its conveniences, has been enjoyed for two years. As one High School has prospered under the supervision of Miss Krebs, it is only natural that another High School should seek her guidance. The other High School, in this case is the Southmont High School. It is only natural also, that Miss Krebs should accept this position, as it is her chosen work.

A sum of about $150 was netted from the operetta "Lelawala," presented by the musical clubs of the high school. This money will be used to buy instruments for the orchestra. This is the second operetta presented by the school.

There are a great many incidents which would show the respect of the community to Miss Krebs. However, let us sight but one. Every parent that visited the school on Visitors' Day, paid an unconscious tribute to Miss Krebs, when they remarked of the business like way in which the school was run, and of the business like attitude of the pupils.

As we think with sorrow, of the coming year's without Miss Krebs, let us remember the age-old proverb, "It is more blessed to give than to receive."

Olga Davis and Robert Gray, by writing the two best short stories for the annual Sophomore Short Story Contest, won the two gold medals offered by Miss Helen Price. Olga Davis' story was called "Canary Cupid," and the title of Robert Gray's was "L. F. T."

PLANS COMPLETED FOR ANNUAL SENIOR TRIP TO WASHINGTON, D. C.

Class to Reside at Colonial Hotel During Stay at Capital

The Seniors are kept busy counting the seconds until twenty-nine minutes after the eleventh hour of the morning of Thursday, April 14, when they will leave for Washington, D. C. This is an annual event of the Senior year and the most important occasion of the entire High School career.

As the plans stand, Miss Trine, Miss Greer and Mr. Belles will act as chaperons, as well as the personal guide, who will conduct them about Washington. The Colonial, a comfortable and up-to-date hotel, has been chosen as the place of residence during their sojourn.

The plans, which are just about completed, promise the Seniors an excellent time. Thursday will be spent mostly in travel but at three thirty p. m. the party stops at Harrisburg to stay until six o'clock, when they will again board the train for Washington and will arrive there about nine o'clock. The remainder of that evening will be spent in getting settled and seeing the capital at night.

Friday morning and afternoon will be taken up with sight-seeing, including the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, Lincoln Memorial, Pan-American Union, White House, United States Capitol, Botanical Gardens, Fish Commission, and Washington Monument. The class will spend that evening at Keith's.

On Saturday morning, the Seniors will visit the naval yards. After an early luncheon the party will leave by special electric train for Mount Vernon, stopping enroute at historical Alexandria, for visits to Christ Church, Masonic Hall, where George Washington was Worshipful Master; the house of Lord Fairfax and old Carlyle House. After a thorough inspection of beautiful Mount Vernon, the party will take a steamer up the Potomac River and will arrive in Washington in time for dinner.

As the next day is Sunday, Easter Sunday, in fact, the morning will be taken up with church. The party has decided to attend the President's church in hope of seeing him and Mrs. Coolidge.

The Seniors will bid the Capital goodbye at ten o'clock Monday morning and will arrive in Johnstown about seven o'clock that evening.

GIRLS GYM EXHIBITION TO BE GIVEN APRIL 22

The third annual gym exhibition will be given by the girls' Physical Education classes, Friday evening, April 22, in the Westmont-Upper Yoder High School gymnasium.

Much time and preparation are being given toward the exhibition. Miss Leahy is in charge and has already planned the following program: First and second period classes, a Wand Drill and a Dutch Dance; fourth and seventh period classes, Figure March Tactics; fourth period class, Irish Jig and the News Boys Mock Fight; sixth and seventh period classes, Clog Dance; sixth period class, Indian Club Drill; seventh period class, Hungarian Rhapsody; and an Old Fashioned Dance by girls chosen from the different classes.

SCHOOL SPIRIT

Are the students of the Westmont-Upper Yoder High School lacking in school spirit? It certainly seemed so on the night of the Debate and even more so at the Oratorical Contest. Anyone who was present when these two annual events of the High School took place can tell you how few people came. There should have been many more students at these contests.

Surely there is something wrong. The students ought to have more interest in what the school is doing for them. Scout meetings, Camp fire Girl meetings, movies, and other such things should have been skipped on these two occasions. Why is it that the students go to plays where they know they will be amused and do not go to places where education is made the chief aim in an interesting way?

SUPPORT YOUR PAPER

"Gossip Distribution Day." Every month that cry or a similar one is heard in the class rooms of the Westmont-Upper Yoder High School. But why so few people get papers? Oh! They have not paid their budget. This is the story in many cases and the pupils that do subscribe for the "Gossip," have numerous complaints. Give us better articles. Give us fewer ads. These jokes are rotten. Naturally the question is asked, "Why?" How can a school paper, or any other paper, please everybody, when nobody is supporting it? Many are not paying their budget. The staff and few supporters have no encouragement and under these circumstances how can one expect a good paper?

The subscribers make or break a paper and the "Gossip," for success, needs everyone's support and cooperation. If anyone has any special complaint, please make it in person to any of the staff, and if anybody thinks they can assist the "Gossip," all contributions will be kindly received.

ON CHOOSING ONE'S ANCESTORS

"Everyone has ancestors. But not everyone has the right kind. The first requirement is: they must have done something which, if mentioned, will produce a starting effect upon the listener so that immediately he will be aware that you are well supplied. The second requirement is: don't forget to mention 'that something' which he has accomplished because the right kind of ancestors are to social life what crust is to a pie—a necessity.

"Some people judge others by the ancestors they have. I know a lady who has gone 'ancestor-crazy.' Her great-great grandfather's grandmother was in some way related to a great personage and it has gone to her head. Her first remark when she hears of someone new in town is, 'I wonder who his ancestors are,' or 'Oh, I must meet him because he is a descendant of such-and-such a person.

"So, because I have always longed to be mentioned in the social column, I have decided that I need some ancestors. It is quite a hard task finding a suitable set of people to whom you may refer as your ancestors. For one thing, the type of people required are not to my liking at all but you've got to have them so here they are.

"First I wish to introduce to you Sir Francis Goodwin. A man dealing in antiques produces the portraits—I produce the name. He was a fifty-second cousin of Oliver Cromwell so really I ought to be proud of him but I'm not.

"Next comes John Stockworth Clinton (I purchased him from the same antique shop.) He's the most stately looking gentleman I've ever seen and he has a right to be. He has a handkerchief which belonged to Queen Elizabeth of England (maybe I'll change it to Queen Mary of Scotland. It sounds a little more romantic.) Anyway he has the handkerchief.

"Of course, there must be a lady in the family tree even if she isn't much more than a twig. This lady of grandeur is Lady Elizabeth Carlton. She was second maid-in-waiting for Queen Victoria. I haven't quite decided what she's going to say but there will have to be some stories that she knows about the Queen.

"Three ancestors ought to be enough for anyone to brag about. Anyway, they're enough for me. Why, I was in so many antique shops trying to find Lady Carlton that I dreamed about them every night.

"I've got my ancestors! But—now what am I going to do with them? They look wonderful—but it seems to me that everyone else has a little bit of proof that they are their ancestors. I don't think I'll introduce them to anyone else—I'm just a little bit afraid. Here I've gone to all that work getting them and now I can't use them. I've got the pictures anyway."

THE PENCIL SHARPENER

(Brings Out the Fine Points)

Did you ever fall in love with words?
Oh! Yes! Words such as, "Find check enclosed."

Longwell: "Have any of your family connections ever been traced?"
Betty B: "Yes, they traced an uncle of mine as far as Canada once."

Bailey (on street car)—"Hey, Horse, wake up!"
Horse—"I ain't asleep. I just got my eyes closed. I can't stand to see women standing in a crowded car."

Brickner: "Did your church pray for rain last week?"
Sawyer: "No, the parsonage roof leaks."

Miss Mowrey—"There is really a great deal of action in 'The Oregon Trail.'"
Mike (Sotto voice)—"Yes, the wagons moving west!"

Freshman (reading Gossip)—"Why do editors always call themselves 'we?'"
Sophomore—"So the man who doesn't like the article will think there are too many to lick."

Rachel—Are you letting your hair grow?
Kathryn—How can I stop it?

Joseph Schlessinger (in Library)—Are there any "Queen Durwards" in?
Miss Greer—"The only one that is in here, is out."

"It's a poor school can't have one absent-minded professor," said Mildred Leckey, as she tossed her bread crumbs with the silverware and her knife in the waste basket.

Bailey—Good night! How did you get the black eye?
Horse—Some guy smacked me with a ripe tomato.
Bailey—What! You don't mean to say a ripe tomato did that?
Horse—Yeah! This one had a can around it.

Lillian Slough (to Senior girls)—I should like more jokes for the "Gossip." There certainly must be plenty in this room.

Miss Trine—Your answer reminds me of Quebec.

Gerald Closser—Why?

Miss Trine—Because it's built on a bluff.
Mr. Belles (to a student slouching in geometry class)—"You have the wrong slant on this."

"And this," said the guide pointing to a slab on the deck, "is where the gallant captain fell!"
"No wonder," exclaimed an old lady. "I nearly slipped on it myself."

Bill Greer '26 slammed the door of the Drive-It-Yourself Garage and sang—"Though you belong to somebody else, tonight you belong to me."

HERMINE LUEBBERT WINS CONTEST

Hermine Luebert, who spoke on "The Constitution," won the national annual oratorical contest, in the Westmont-Upper Yoder High School on Friday evening, March 18. She thus won the annual gold George T. Robinson medal and the bronze medal offered by the "Pittsburgh Sun," which is sponsoring the national contest in this district. George Wertz, who spoke on "Pennsylvania's Contribution to the Constitution," was chosen for second place and given the annual silver George T. Robinson medal, but because he was ineligible to the national contest, Fred Bricker, who spoke on "The Constitution," was selected for second place in the national contest and also given a silver George T. Robinson medal, with first honorable mention going to Louise Stevens.

Hermine Luebert will compete on April 7 for honors for the Westmont-Upper Yoder High School at Ebensburg with other contestants from Cambria County. From these a representative will be sent to Pittsburgh, the best speaker will go to Birmingham, Alabama, for the semi-finals. Here eight contestants will be chosen, who will be given a ten week's tour of Europe. Upon their return the final national contest will be held in Washington, D. C., in September. The best orator from this group will represent United States in the international contest held some time in November.

COMMERCIAL CONTEST TO BE HELD APRIL 9 IN COUNTY SEAT

The Cambria County Commercial Contest will be held in the Ebensburg High School on Saturday morning, April 9, at nine o'clock. This contest parallels the Annual Academic Contest held in Pittsburgh.

The outline of events is as follows:
 Rapid Calculation and Penmanship—Free for all.
 Shorthand—First Year: First fourteen lessons in the Gregg Manual. Short-hand—Second Year: Letters dictated at 80, 90 and 100 words per minute, transcribed on the typewriter.
 Typewriting—First and Second Years: Fifteen minutes take of straight material. Arrangement of one letter.
 Bookkeeping—First Year: To Partnerships—Test will consist of preparing Trial Balances, Statements, Closing Entries, etc.
 Bookkeeping—Second Year: To Corporations—Test to consist of making Adjusting Entries, Accruals and Deferred Charges, etc.
 The Twentieth Century Bookkeeping Text will be used for both tests.

The winners in the County Contest will then prepare for the State Contest which will be held at the Indiana Normal School, Indiana, Pa., on May 14. A gold medal will be awarded to the winner of each event. A silver medal will be awarded to each second place winner. Other awards will be available for others who display exceptional skill.

GROUP VISITS MILLS

On March 12 a group of Cambria County Science Teachers and a few students of Mr. Fails' Chemistry class journeyed through the Coke Plant of the local Steel Company in Franklin. They made the trip in an effort to see and to study the methods used. Besides inspecting several furnaces they visited the coke department and learned the complete process of making it. They also spent some time studying the by-products industry which is rapidly becoming one of the most valuable divisions of steel manufacture.

Summer is not far away and Ruth Saylor has decided to spend part of her vacation with relatives in Huntingdon county.

Franklin Baumer, Emma Jane Lohr, Sylvia Rush, Geraldine Wisniger, John Fance, Charles Temple, John Reese, and Sylvia Klatzkin starred in the Junior chapel play, "Station Y Y Y" by Booth Tarkington. Mr. Belles and Andrew Crichton helped with the radio. The Penn Traffic Co. was so kind as to lend a suite of living room furniture and Mr. Fee gave them a radio for use in the play.

The Seniors held a most successful party Saturday evening, March 26. The class had a section of seats held for them at the State Theater. After the theater party, they came to the high school where they danced in the Crichton's paratrope. The chapters were Miss Krebs, Miss Trine, Miss Greer, and Mr. Belles.

Florence Pollock is quite ill with pneumonia. We all wish her a speedy recovery.
 Elsie Arendt spent the week-end of March 11 with relatives in Pittsburgh. We grieve to say that Robert Gray's crocholine bathing average has suffered a relapse.

MANY PARENTS VISIT HIGH SCHOOL MAR. 15

"Mothers! Fathers! Come—visit our school and see what we are doing!" Such was the plea of the Westmont-Upper Yoder High School, when they were preparing for visitor's day, which was held on Tuesday, March 15.

The regular day's program was carried out. Some mothers came in the morning with their children. They visited the home rooms first, and then went around to the various classes. Other parents came when it best suited them and stayed as long as possible.

When the morning classes were over, lunch was served in the cafeteria. Quite a number of the parents remained for lunch.

At one o'clock, chapel was held in the auditorium. After the singing and the announcements, Mrs. John Northwood, President of the Home and School Club, gave a short talk. The Students' Council had charge of the program for the remainder of the period. They held a special meeting before the assembly to demonstrate the correct use of parliamentary law.

In the afternoon, the regular classes were held until three o'clock, when school was dismissed for the day. At three o'clock all the parents and teachers assembled in the library, where a discussion of vital school problems was held.

The following people visited the school on March 15:
 Mrs. Charles W. Kunkle, Mrs. Edgar Hagens, Mrs. H. T. Wright, Mrs. W. P. Boger, Mrs. E. L. McIntyre, Mrs. G. W. Shaw, Mrs. J. P. Bruzzer, Mrs. Anna Piper, Mrs. A. B. Crichton, Mrs. E. A. Collier, Mrs. Conrad Raab, Mrs. John Deiter, Mrs. Edward Blouagh, Mrs. Harry Kanther, Mrs. William H. Walker, Mrs. J. C. Eckel, Mrs. Edward Bell, Mrs. E. G. Owen, Mrs. E. T. Gray, Mrs. C. J. Miller, Mrs. D. Florman, Mrs. P. S. Fletcher, Mr. P. S. Fletcher, Mrs. C. S. Slough, Mrs. Nathan Glosser, Mrs. E. C. Mossholder, Mrs. G. A. Jahn, Mrs. Arla Anstead, Mrs. J. W. Smith, Mrs. O. C. Fisher, Miss Violet Witt, Mrs. George Marshall, Mrs. D. H. Wheately, Mrs. J. C. Lecky, Mrs. Albert Wisniger, Adam Kappeler, Mrs. Norman Lewis, Blanche Mull, Mrs. O. E. Englehardt, Mrs. Millie Hecker, Mrs. O. P. Thomas, Mrs. J. J. Kintner, Mrs. H. Wolf, Mrs. John Northwood, Mrs. C. C. Rush, Mrs. Bertha Potter, Mrs. Earle E. Miller, Mrs. Ala Miller, Mrs. I. S. Kaminsky, Mrs. Delozier, Mrs. McKee, Mrs. H. M. Farr, Mrs. Davis, Mrs. Harris, Mrs. Whitten, Mrs. Hager, Mrs. Wainger, Mr. Fulmer, Mrs. Mowery, Mrs. Dishong.

Kaminsky will soon become a name that will be connected with public speaking if Symund were as fluent at any other time as at 1:00 P. M.

Mr. Engh has discovered the latest "get-rich-quick" scheme. Ask those who forget their locker keys.

An extension has been noted at the legs of Mr. Clarendon Crichton's trousers.

Dorothy Stanger, '25, is home for her spring vacation.

Mrs. Keffler expects to attend a History Conference in Philadelphia over the week-end of April 1.

Miss Trine and Miss Greer hope to attend the high school dramatic contest which will be held in Altoona Friday evening, April 8.

A handbook of information concerning our school is to be published in the near future under the supervision of the Students' Council.

The operetta "Lelawala" was presented by Schenley High School a few weeks ago. Miss Ames and Miss Greer went to Pittsburgh to see it.

The social reputation of the Senior class is faithfully upheld by Bessie Glosser who has made two more trips to Altoona.

CLASSES IN COMMERCIAL LAW AND HISTORY VISIT EBENSBURG

The members of the Problems of Democracy and Commercial Law classes made a trip to Ebensburg Thursday, March 10, with Mrs. Keffler and Mr. Engh. The Law class went up in the morning and the History class joined them shortly after noon.

The classes were first taken to the County Jail. The prisoners were talking between the bars, to their relatives and friends. One of the wardens, then showed the pupils through the main floor and basement of the building. The prisoners' cells, a barber shop, the bath and shower rooms were on the main floor; each cell had in it one cot and running water; and the kitchen, the laundry, and the dining hall were on the basement floor. The prisoners baked their own bread and made all the meals. Everything on the basement floor, as well as the main floor, was kept very clean by the prisoners.

Next, the classes were taken to the Court House. They visited Judge Evans' court, and heard several interesting trials. They were able to get a very good idea of court proceedings, for they saw the jury and the witnesses impaled; they heard the cases being stated; they heard the plaintiff's cross examination, and the defendant's cross examination. After each side submitted its evidence to the judge, the pupils heard the lawyers plead their client's case to the jury. Finally they heard the jury's decision given by the judge.

The students, then, drove over to the County Home. Mr. and Mrs. Owen are in charge of this institution, and they keep it very clean. Mrs. Owen showed the pupils through the building. There were quite a few men, some women, and a number of babies, and they all seemed quite happy. They sleep in wards and eat in a large dining hall. They have a large living room and a spacious, cheerful sun-parlor. The men, who are physically able to work, take care of the garden where they grow all the vegetables used for their meals; the women do the housework and all the cooking. Others, not able to do this work, make baskets, clothes and other hand work.

A short distance out of Ebensburg the classes stopped at the Childrens Home. The children were eating and they were evidently enjoying the meal.

HISTORY DEPARTMENT TO PRESENT PLAYS IN CHAPEL APRIL 11

Two plays entitled, "The Making of a Book" and "The Spirit of Progress," will be presented by the History Department in chapel April 11th.

Abbot	Donald Wright
Monk	Robert Gray
Fulrad	Warren Benshoff
Angilbert	Howard Albert
Theodore	Joseph Albert
Rebanus	Rees Engelhardt
Barbara	Dorothy Stutzman
Gisela	Grechen Kopp

"The Spirit of Progress" is a play to show the steps in the development of our modern civilization. The cast is as follows:

Progress	Natalie Suppes
The Page	Michael McTomie
Primitive Man	Emanuel Kleinman
Greek Man	Howard Black
Greek Woman	Nancy Jane Longenecker
Roman	John McGrath
Monk	David Yimling
Puritan Man	John Sawyer
Puritan Woman	Martha Boyle

Pioneers
 { Donald Wright
 { Mike Kindya
 { Robert McCaulough
 High School Boy
 { Arthur Eichler

The historical part will be under the direction of Mrs. Keffler and the dramatics under that of Miss Greer. The practices have now begun in earnest, having been interrupted for a time by the operetta.

WESTMONT LOSES CLOSE GAME TO BEAVERDALE

Westmont went down to defeat in one of the most critical games of the season at Beaverdale, March 7, 22-21. As a virtue of their defeat Beaverdale High again regained the league lead.

The contest at Beaverdale between the two teams was probably the most spirited battle of the league season. At the end of the four periods the teams were deadlocked at 19 and only a hectic five minute session decided the issue. Rushing into the lead by virtue of three fouls and a pair of field goals in the second stanza, while holding the visitors to 3 points, Beaverdale was enjoying a 12-8 lead. Westmont quickly tied the score at 19 and in the closing minutes of the extra period Tillet dribbled down and dropped in the winning field goal.

The summary:

Beaverdale 22	Westmont 21
Profafizer	F	Bailey
Tillet	F	Marshall
Derenik	C	Conrad
Hart	C	Brickner
Rainey	C	Gurley

Substitutions—Sawyer for Marshall, Marshall for Sawyer, Kintner for Conrad, Sawyer for Gurley, Michaels for Derenik, Derenik for Michaels.
 Field Goals—Tillet 3, Rainey 2, Bailey 4, Marshall 4, Conrad 1.
 Foul Goals—Tillet 5 of 9, Profafizer 2 of 4, Rainey 5 of 9, Bailey 2 of 4, Conrad 0 of 1, Brickner 0 of 4, Kintner 1 of 1.
 Referee—Powell.
 Timekeepers—Greer and Shannon.

They had good healthful food and plenty of it. These children are sent to the Ebensburg school when they are six. They were all very healthy-looking, and seemed happy and contented. The trip was interesting, as well as educational to the students. Cars for the trip were furnished by different members of the classes.

WESTMONT DOWNED BY PORTAGE BASKETEERS

The Portage High School basket ball team defeated the Westmont-Upper Yoder machine at Portage, March 11. A Westmont victory would have placed the hilllopers in a tie for first place with Beaverdale and the defeat dropped them into a three-cornered tie for second place.

The first quarter ended with Coach Gray's team holding an 8-5 lead which was increased to 14-9 before the close of the second stanza. In the fourth period Westmont staged a rally but failed to overcome their opponent's lead.

The large Portage crowd which witnessed the game was augmented by an enthusiastic delegation from Beaverdale.

The summary:
 Portage 24 Westmont 22
 Kowalski F Bailey
 Fruhlinger F Marshall
 Fruhlinger C Conrad
 Agnew C Curley
 Kennedy G Brickner
 McQuilian G
 Substitutions—Kinnner for Conrad, Conrad for Kinnner, Sawyer for Marshall.

Which class has the best basket ball team? This question will be answered at the close of the inter-class elimination contest which will be held Monday, March 28, at Westmont-Upper Yoder High School under the direction of Coach Engb.

Varsity men will be eligible in the league and in order for a team to be eliminated it must be beaten twice. This means that a team which may have had a bad start still has a fighting chance to be the winner.

There do not seem to be any favorites. All the classes are very enthusiastic and as all inter-class affairs have been hotly contested, this league promises to be a success.

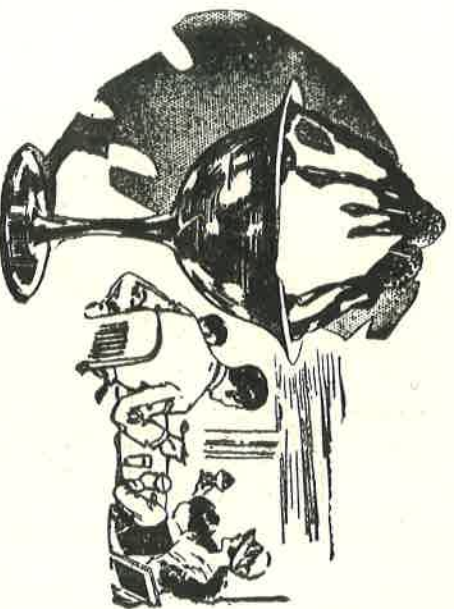

Field Goals—Kowalski 4, Fruhlinger 1, Kennedy 2, Bailey 6, Conrad 1, Sawyer 2.

Foul Goals—Kowalski 1 of 2, Fruhlinger 4 of 5, Kennedy 5 of 7, Bailey 3 of 4, Marshall 0 of 1, Brickner 0 of 2, Sawyer 1 of 1.

Referee—Hanson. Timekeepers—Greer and Shannon.
