DESTRUCTION.

Kansas Visited By Winds and Floods.

Serious Loss of Life—Uniontown, Near Fort Scott, Destroyed—Wabash River Over Its Banks—Storms in the East—Etc.

Fort Scott, Kan., June 11.—A report has reached here that a cyclone visited Uniontown Saturday night, leaving death and destruction in its wake. It is impossible to obtain definite information as all the wires on both sides of the place are down and it is a matter of doubt whether there was a cyclone or a cloudburst. It is reported that two women and four children were drowned, but their names can not be ascertained. Houses were blown down, property greatly damaged and it is feared that many more lives are lost than have been reported.

The country about Uniontown is thickly settled and the latest reports are that the loss of life will far exceed any present estimate. The whole country seems to have been flooded, and the Missouri Pacific and the Missouri, Kansas & Texas. Every possible aid is being rendered the sufferers. A heavy rain and wind storm passed over this section Saturday night and yesterday morning a heavy rain fell. The condition of the wires little information can be obtained.

In this city there was much damage to property but no lives were lost. A section of the city known as Bellefontaine, was completely destroyed by a heavy rain, which was carried off by the high waters of the Marquette. The immense dam above the city broke early yesterday and the water rushed down Wall street to the depth of several feet, flooding cellars and causing great consternation. People were taken out of houses in wagons, and in Bellefontaine many of the residents were forced to leave their dwellings in shifts to escape death.

Uniontown is situated on the Wichita & West-railroad in the valley of the Marquette, fifteen miles from Fort Scott. It was organized as a town in 1865, although a post-office had been established there in 1862. About six years ago the town contained eight general stores, two hotels, a lumber yard, a heavy stable, a brick factory and a coal mine. It has grown considerably, however, since then.

WABASH RIVER FLOODS.

AGUSTA, Kan., June 11.—Parties living north of this city were obliged to leave camp to-day yesterday and reported the river out of its banks and some places surrounded by water. They procured some boats and returned.

The river here at that time was not unusually high, but as the parties reported the high water above came only about five miles it was thought it would raise to a dangerous point here. In a short time it commenced rising about five feet an hour, and finally began to back up on the banks. The water in the river banks about one mile northeast of town and came with such a rush that the people in the lower part of town barely had time to escape from their houses, leaving their household effects floating. Many had to wade through the water waist deep.

While only a few buildings in town have been taken out there are about seventy-five houses in water from four to ten feet deep, which will cause great loss in every case and many thousands of dollars worth of crops and property totally destroyed, while the number of cattle, hogs and horses lost will run into the thousands.

Two iron and one wooden bridge have gone out and the Augusta water mills are in ruins. The mill race of the Santa Fe Company's yards floated out and the Santa Fe depot had to be abandoned.

The passenger train on the Santa Fe line got here and could get no further north than the bridge. The train ran into Wichita over the "Frisco" track, but the "Frisco" trains will be unable to get east of here for several hours. Superintendent Wentworth is here attending to affairs in person, which ensures the early moving of the trains.

The damage to crops, stock and other property is estimated at from $5,000 to $60,000.

Mrs. Graham and child were drowned and many others are unaccounted for. The water was so high that it ran on housetops surrounded by water, which, on account of the scarcity of boats, have not been reached yet. In some instances rafts were constructed, but owing to the strong current they were of no avail.

MARTINSBURG, W. Va., June 11.—A very heavy storm passed over the southwest part of Berkeley County yesterday morning, a terrific gale of wind that did great damage to crops and property. A thunder storm and this by a heavy hail. The hail stones lay in some places three or four inches deep. Crops and trees are ruined. Live-stock was badly bruised and in some instances killed. Several houses were wrecked and the wind did a great deal of damage. The loss of life has not yet been reported. Owing to the lateness of the hour at which the storm occurred, details are meagre.

A CYCLONE IN INDIANA.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., June 11.—A cyclone passed through this town yesterday afternoon tearing down shade trees and unroofing houses along its path. The fine brick dwelling of J. M. Betts was nearly destroyed and the new residence of W. E. Hartley, on the corner of the Northern Pacific line and bridge, was in danger.

MOTHER AND CHILD BURNED.

BALTIMORE, Md., June 11.—Mrs. Elizabeth Tyler, aged seventy-five years, and her child, five years old, were burned to death last night by the explosion of a coal oil lamp at their home in Ravensville in Anne Arundel County.

—I don't know any thing that yields so large a return for so small an expenditure as the sand garnet, writes a Boston correspondent to the Worcester Spy. The Massachusetts Emergency and Hygiene Association provided seven of these play grounds for poor children last summer at a cost of one dollar for each of the four hundred little ones entitled for eight weeks. In Boston the garnet is sold by the school yards, the public contributed the money and poor but reliable motherly women were employed four days in the week to matronize the little folks. It was a pretty sight to see these poor children, dressed to spend the summer in town, playing with shovels and pails in the sand, whose fascination was unending. Others were playing horse with worsted reins or tossing bean bags and skipping rope or playing ball. If a different set had come every day it is calculated that the matrons would have entertained almost one hundred and thirty thousand children. Now and then a basket of flowers would be contributed, so that each child went home with a nosegay. This season it is hoped the contributions will be sufficiently generous to establish twenty sand gardens and extend the benefits.

SULLIVAN ARRESTED.

Close of the Cronin Inquest—The Verdict—Parties Said to Be Implicated—Alexander Sullivan Arrested.

CHICAGO, June 12.—Alexander Sullivan, president of the Irish National League, was arrested last night for complicity in the murder of Dr. P. H. Cronin and it is reported in police circles that no less than thirty warrants have been made out for suspected accessories. It is also reported that a warrant will be issued for the arrest of Henry Lo Caron, the English spy, and his extradition demanded. The majority of those mentioned are prominent officers of the Clan-na-Gael.

These sensational developments were the first result of the verdict of the coroner's jury rendered Tuesday night.

The coroner's investigation into the murder of Dr. P. H. Cronin was concluded late Tuesday afternoon and the jury rendered its verdict.

It was within a few minutes of ten o'clock when the foreman intimated that the jury had agreed upon a verdict. Only Lo Caron and a small number of spectators were in the room. The verdict was read in slow and impressive tones.

We, the undersigned, a jury appointed to make inquiry according to law as to how the body viewed by us came to its death, state as our verdict that the body of Patrick H. Cronin, known as Dr. Cronin.

Second—That the said Patrick H. Cronin died from violence done to him.

Third—That the said Patrick H. Cronin was murdered by the hands of one or more persons to his home on North Clark street on the evening of the 4th inst. by some person or persons to the name of "The Cronin cottage," situated at 1873 Ashland avenue.

Fourth—That at said cottage the said Cronin was murdered by the hands of some person or persons to us unknown.

Fifth—That the body after said murder was committed was placed in a trunk and carried to the residence of one or more persons to us unknown.

Sixth—That the evidence shows conclusively to our minds that a plot or conspiracy was formed by a number of persons for the purpose of murdering the said Cronin and concealing his body. Said plot or conspiracy was deliberately contrived and cruelly executed.

Seventh—We have carefully inquired into the relations between the said Cronin to other persons who were present at the time of his death, to ascertain if he had any quarrels or enemies with any person sufficient to cause his murder.

Eighth—It is our judgment that no other person or persons except those who are or who had been members of a certain secret society known as the United Brotherhood, or "The Cronin," had been treated and were the executors of such plot or conspiracy to murder said Cronin.

Ninth—Many of the witnesses testifying in said case have done so with much evident unwillingness, and we believe, with much mental reservation.

We infer from the evidence that a number of persons were parties to the plot and conspiracy to murder the said Cronin, and that Daniel Concha, Patrick O. Sullivan, Alexander Sullivan and one Woodruff, alias Hink, were either principals, accessories, or abettors in the said plot and conspiracy to murder said Cronin and conceal his body and should be held to answer to the grand jury. We also believe that other persons were parties to the said plot and conspiracy to murder said Cronin and conceal his body and should be held to answer to the grand jury.

We further state that the plot or conspiracy in its conception and execution is one of the most foul and brutal that have ever come to our knowledge and we recommend that the proper authorities be requested to proceed to the discovery and apprehension of all those engaged in it.

We further state that in our judgment all secret societies of the kind as such as the United Brotherhood, or "The Cronin," to be are not in harmony with and are injurious to American institutions.

We hope that future vigilance and the police force will more than compensate for past neglect by a portion of the force in this case.
