In Loss of Life-Uniontown, Near Fort Scott, Destroyed—Walnut River Over Its Banks—Storms in the Enst-Etc.

Four Scorr, Kan., June 17.—A report has reached here that a cyclone visited Uniontown Saturday night, leaving death and destruction in its wake. It is impossible to obtain definite information as all the wires on both sides of the place are down and it is a matter of doubt whether it was a cyclone or a cloudburst. It is reported that these courses and for children when the control of the course and for children when the course and for children is the course and for children in the course and course in the c it was a cyclone or a cloudburst. It is re-ported that two women and four children were drowned, but their names can not be ascertained. Houses were blown down, property greatly damaged and it is feared that many more lives are lost than have been reported.

The country about Uniontown is thickly settled and the latest reports are that the loss of life will far exceed any present estimates. The whole country seems to have been flooded. Traffic has been suspended on the Missouri Pacific and the Missouri, Kansas & Texas. Every possible aid is being rendered the sufferers. A heavy rain and wind storm passed over this section Saturday night and yesterday morning but owing to the condition of the wires little information can be obtained. In this city there was much damage to

In this city there was much damage to property but no lives were lost. A section of the city known as Belletown, was completely wiped cut and many houses were carried off by the high waters of the Marmaton. The immense dam above the city broke early yesterday and the water rushed down Wall street to the depth of several feet flooding cellars and causing great consternation. People were taken out of houses in wagons, and in Belletown many of the residents were forced to leave their dwellings in skiffs to escape death. Uniontown is situated on the Wichita & Western railroad in the valley of the Western railroad in the valley of the Marmaton, fifteen miles from Fort Scott. It was organized as a town in 1865, al-though a post-office had been established there in 1862. About six years ago the town contained eight general stores, two hotels, a lumber yard, a livery stable, a mill and had a population of about 300. It has grown considerably, however, since

Although the jury had retired before he had left his law office under the shadows of the county building and he knew full well that his arrest was inevitable before morning, he was in bed and sound asleep when the deputies arrived. They had expected to find him awaiting them and surrounded by his friends. Instead of this his law clerk, Henry Brown, and the domestics were the only occupants of the house.

CHEYENNE, Wyo, T., Jone 11.—Cole Younger, actorious in Western Wyoming as a bad man, is said to have been drowned Saturday while attempting to ford a river on horseback. The only witness to the accident was Ernest Williams, who has been a nartner with Williams, who has been a partner with Younger in several horse stealing scrapes. He told so many contradictory stories of the manner of Younger's death that he was arrested and lodged in jail at Evanston, and will be held until the recovery of Younger's body. Rom, June 12.—During a debate in the Chamber of Deputies on a vote of censure proposed by an Extremist on the Italian Consul at Trieste Signor Cavaletto said Italy ought to maintain faithfully the treaty with Germany and Austria, as the day would come when she would have to fight side by side with Austria to prevent the Adriatic from becoming a Slav sea. quainted while serving a term in the Salt the Adriatic from becoming a Slav sea He concluded by proposing a vote of con-fidence in the Government. Prime Minister Crispi declared that the peace of the world reposed in the treaty. If questions of nationality arose Italy would have nothing to give and much to ask. Confi-dence in the Government was then voted by a large majority.

School Teacher Drowned. HIAWATHA, Kan., June 12.—Reports just received from different parts of this county show that the rain and hail storm of last Saturday was the most severe ever known in Brown County. Many bridges and culverts were washed out and at the Comet bridge Miss Elia McGuire, a school teacher, was drowned while attempting to ford a creek, the bridge having been washed away. She had been to Sabetha on a shopping expedition and left for home at four o'cock and nothing more was heard from her till the next day, when her horse was found by the roadside. SAMOAN SETTLEMENT.

The Agreement Signed What the Commissioners Have Agreed To.
WASHINGTON, June 15.—A dispatch received here from Berlio, states that the Samoan conference had met again and after a brief discussion concluded their labors when the agreement negotiated by the Commissioners was signed by all the members of the conference.
At the State Department it was announced that the agreement would not be made public until confirmed by the Senats.
While it was called an agreement by the officers of the State Department, Walker
Slaine said last evening that he thought While it was called an agreement by the officers of the State Department, Walker Blaine said last evening that he thought it would undoubtedly require ratification by the Senate. If the instrument signed was one regulating the conduct of two countries toward each other, as for instance, between the United States and Samoa, it would properly be designated as a treaty, but where the instrument signed is to shape the conduct of three Governments—the United States, England and Germany—towards a fourth party—Samoa—it was held that its proper nomenciature was an agreement. At the same time, as it was a matter affecting the foreign policy of the United States, it would need ratification by the Senate, and therefore, it could not be made public prior to action by the Senate. The agreement was cordially approved by all members of the conference and by their respective Governments. The best of feeling prevailed at the termination of the labors of the Commissioners.

WHAT THE AGREMENT PROVIDES
BERLIN, June 15.—America having abandoned her principal objections to the agreement previously arrived at, the plenipotentiaries had only to make unessential modifications in the wording of the draft of treaty. The draft guarantees an autonomous administration of the islands under the joint control of Germany and America, England acting as arbitrator in the event of differences arising. The Samoans are to elect their own King and Vicercy and to be represented in a Senate means are to elect their own King and Vicercy and to be represented in a Senate composed of the principal chiefs and chambers elected by the people. Samoa is to have the right of levying duties of every kind. The Germans are to receive a money indemnity for their losses. A special court is to be appointed to deal with the land question.

The Americans made their adhesion conditional upon the ratification of the treaty by the United States Senate. The status quo will therefore obtain in Samoa until December. Mr. Phelps will carry the agreement to Washington and it will not be published until signed by the American Government.

Messrs. Kasson, Bates and Phelps cordially thanked Count Berbert Bismarck for the courteous manner in which they had been treated and warmly praised the over the deliberations of the conference. Sir Edward Malet thanked Count Herbert on behalf of the English delegates. Count Herbert in reply said he hoped they had reached a final solution of the difficult nother Incendiary Stable Fire in Kansas City—Two Hundred and Fifty Horses

Perish in a Few Months. Kansas City, Mo., June 15.—At 12:05 Kaxsas City, Mo., June 15.—At 12:05 o'clock yesterday morning the Metropolitan street car stables, at Seventeenth and Madison avenues, were discovered in flames. In the barn there were eighty-five mules and three horses. Of these thirteen mules and the horses were upstairs. According to Stablehand Gordon's account only two horses and four mules were got out of the second story, leaving the one horse and nine mules to perish. Of the thirteen cars in the barn eleven were saved and about half the harness was got out. At this time the burning timbers began falling and the rescuers were compelled to desist from their work.

Attarix, Tex., June 15—Meager reports of a bloody affray at Given's store, eighteen miles southeast of here, have reached this city.

The community of Cedar Creek is twenty miles from Anatin. At the last election the negroes proved the most numerous at the poils and elected a justice of the peace named Orange Wiles and a negro constable, Isaac Wilson, both ignoraut, cornfield men, totally unfit to do justice either to whites or negroes. The white people made the best of it and tried to avoid any thing that would lead to a race conflict. Wilson, inflated with power, proved to be domineering and abrogant. He forced his way last week into an old fisherman's hut on the Colorado river and refused to leave when ordered to. The fisherman took down his gun but did not attempt to use it. For this Wilson went before the negro justice, got a warrant and arrested the fisherman and on horseback made an inoffensive old man walk before him all the way to Boston, a distance of twelve miles, over terrible roads and at a gait that broke him down.

This incident raised a feeling of resentment among the white, but was silowed to mass. A few days a respectable white that broke him down.

This incident raised a feeling of resentment among the whites, but was allowed to pass. A few days a respectable white citizen named Alf Litter went to a negro's cabin and remonstrated with him for sending an insulting message to himself and wife. For this he was arrested by the negro constable and taken before the negro justice, Wicks, for trial and while the trial was in its preliminary stages the accused turned toward his lawyer, G. B. Fowler, of Bastrop and asked him if he could step outside for a moment. The lawyer replied:

"Certainly, you can," and Litter thereupon was about to proceed to the rear, when the justice shouted:

"Halt, sir! you can," and Litter thereupon was about to proceed to the rear, when the justice shouted:

"Halt, sir! you can," and Litter thereupon was about to proceed to the rear, when the justice shouted:

"Halt, sir! you can," and Litter thereupon was about to proceed to the rear, when the justice seized a pisto or shotgun and fired at Litter, killing him instantly. The colored constable also emptied his revolver into the dying man, whose life went out without a moment's warning.

Instantly the wildest confusion arose and knives, revolvers and shotguns were speedily brought into requisition. People from all parts of the neighborhood rushed to the spot, while those already on the ground tried to get away.

A general fight between both factions followed, and during the bout many persons who took no part on either side were either cut or shot. Among the latter was Peter Bell, colored, who is a brother of Colonel Bell, of Austin.
