FALL OF THE BASTILLE.

Centennial Observance of This Event.

Disturbances in Paris on the Proclamation of a Bonapartist Meeting—Boulangists Threaten a Revolution.

PARIS, July 15.—M. Deroulle, M. Geris and other Bonapartist members of the Chamber of Deputies met in the Place de la Concorde before the statue of Strasbourg yesterday, intending to hold a meeting.

A crowd of several thousand persons gathered and M. Deroulle, with other members of the Chamber of Deputies, named Clement forced his way through the crowd and approaching Deroulle forbade him to speak. Deroulle protested, but the police official was obstinate.

Deroulle then engaged a floral cart, at the same time leading the crowd in shouts of "Vive Boulangier." Clement tried to arrest Deroulle, but the latter stoutly resisted, saying that he had not made a speech and had only cheered for Boulangier. He refused to accompany the officer to the police station.

Clement thereupon seized him, but the crowd came to Deroulle's rescue and took him away from the officer who was being roughly handled by the mob, when a large body of police suddenly appeared upon the scene and charged the crowd, driving them in all directions and receding the unfortunate commissary. A large number of persons were arrested.

The incident has caused a sensation throughout the city and dangerous developments are feared.

A band of ruffians yesterday in the neighborhood of Navors cafe, in the Rue Royal, attacked an Italian girl. The mob was so enraged that they took down the girl and carried her away. They then made an attack on the cafe and completely wrecked the place.

LOUISIANA.—The adherents of Boulangier who came over from France to celebrate the fall of the Bastille, for the most part, express confidence in the peaceful solutions of the problems which the French people have before them. They desire the speech of M. Brisson, in which he declared that the Republic should become incapable of protecting themselves, instancing the fact that they once allowed the Republic to be destroyed and succumbed to the Empire, and in which he concluded that the majority should defend the liberties of Frenchmen by force of arms.

Notwithstanding their disclaimer of warlike intention, however, these Boulangists do not pretend to deny that in the event of their own success at the coming elections they propose to remove President Carnot from his position at the head of the French Republic and that this will be done at the point of the bayonet if necessary, unless he yields to the wishes of Boulangier and bows to the expressed will of the people. It can be seen, therefore, that the Boulangists and other similar expressions on the part of the Boulangists and the equally determined tone of their enemies the outlook for October is ominous. Boulangier's assertion in his speech yesterday that he was not working for the strengthening of the Republic is generally accepted as a ruse to divert the threatened alliance between the republicans and the supporters of the Comte de Paris, an alliance which if consummated must prove a death blow to the form in which it was adopted by the Senate.

PARIS 15.—The one-hundredth anniversary of the fall of the Bastille was celebrated by the public meetings and fete in Paris and throughout the provinces yesterday. The Boulangists bearing representations of General Boulangier were displayed in the windows of the League of Patriots and other Bonapartist resorts. These devices called forth a few boisterous remarks, but with the exception of the fete at the office of La Presse, the day passed off without disturbances of any kind.

The fire-works at the fete last evening were somewhat marred by rain, but the fete was still a success. The Bois de Boulogne, the Champ de Mars and the Trocadero palace were a blaze of light. At midnight thousands of persons thronged the Bois de Boulogne and there was no sign of any abatement of the fun.

THE LATEST.—CLEARING HOUSE returns for the week ended July 13 showed an average increase of 220 compared with the corresponding week of last year. In New York the increase was 241.

On the London Stock Exchange during the week ended July 13 American securities were fluctuating, English being firm. Prices were weak on the German bourses and in Paris stocks were unsteady.

The strike at Carnegie's Homestead works was still in progress. The terms were not given out, but much satisfaction was expressed at the termination of the troubles, which so seriously threatened the peace.

M. BELZ, a Boulangist, killed M. Ferriol, an Opportunist, in a duel at Marseilles recently.

The parliamentary committee investigating the income and wealth of Queen Victoria, it is reported, has found that she is not nearly so wealthy as generally believed.

It is stated that since the Wobegumth dispute the Swiss Government has decided to establish embassies at London and St. Petersburg.

The centennial of the fall of the Bastille was celebrated in London by the French residents of the principal cities of this country as well as in France. In Paris the Boulangists created some disturbance. President Carnot reviewed the troops at Longchamps, receiving a hearty greeting.

W. K. SPURLOCK, a Louisiana pater, shot and killed Thomas Corcoran, colored, the other day for having insulted Mrs. Stahlhart.

By the wrecking of a passenger train near Greenfield, Ill., Miss Eva Davis, of Carlinville, Ill., was killed and several other passengers injured.

Mrs. EBERHARDT was killed and Mrs. William Williams was fatally injured at Streator, Ill., recently by lightning striking.

The Sioux Indian Commissioners were arrested on the arrival of his train at Nashville, Tenn., on the 11th to await a requisition from Governor Lowry, of Mississippi. Sullivan attempted resistance, throwing himself into a pugilistic attitude, but a revolver thrust into his face quieted him and he surrendered. Later he was released by an order of the circuit court and received an ovation from an immense crowd of admirers.

A SLIGHT shock of earthquakes was felt at Charleston, S. C., on the 11th.

JOHN MALONE, a prominent citizen of Chattanooga, Tenn., was killed at Rising Fawn, Ga., the other night by being run over by a train on the Great Southern road.

THE SCOTCHMAN, near Boston, recently, Augustus Rosenberg killed the woman with whom he was living and her son, also fatally wounding another child and seriously wounding another in endeavoring to escape the dead fell over a pile of railroad ties, a spike entering his head and killing him.

STATE OF TRADE.

Bradstreet's Weekly Review of the Trade of the Country.

New York, July 15.—Bradstreet's "State of Trade" for the week ending July 13, indicates that the volume of trade throughout the country, while a little more active in special localities, does not on the whole show much increase in volume. The outlook for the autumn business is generally considered excellent and good crop prospects have already had an influence on the country demand. Lumber proves an exception in that it is weaker at Western centers. A satisfactory increase in trade, accompanied by increased firmness in prices, is reported in the dry goods (commerce), building material, furniture and carpet trades in this city. Breadstuffs have been irregular, starting with a quick advance early in the week on damage to the wheat crop, and higher cables, and declining on better weather reports, heavier receipts of new winter, slackening export request and few speculative sales. Raw sugars have declined at New York 1-16 to 3/8 on cable advices of a heavy surplus in London and other markets. Holders are conservative. Expert opinion inclines to the belief that our refiners will naturally take advantage of the reaction abroad to buy sugar and the reaction will be short lived. Speculation in diamonds has been active and an advance of fully 1 cent per pound is a result. Advances from San Francisco state that an attempt is being made to build the salmon market on estimates of only half the expected pack in Alaska. Steel rail mills are not fully supplied. Orders for rail for thirty days at $27.50 a ton for large lots. Structural iron is in urgent demand and prices are stronger. Fall wear cotton and light weight clothing wools are more active and prices are firm. Raw wool is in demand and in fair sale at the seaboard on free arrivals. Raw cotton is 1/8 higher at New York and Liverpool on good demand and small stocks. The total number of failures in the United States from January 1 to date is 6,235 against 5,533 in 1888.

LOT JUMPING AT GUTHRIE.

An Exciting Scene Over the Tearing Down of a Building—A Mob Revolts It.

GUTHRIE, Ok., July 13.—A number of city marshals and a dozen workmen yesterday afternoon began to tear down a restaurant on the corner of the most valuable lots in the city and owned by Peter H. Haines, an old man.

As the work of demolition proceeded a large crowd gathered and those who sympathized with the old couple were many. The actions of the city marshals, while were such as to arouse this feeling of sympathy to action and a number of speeches were made against the marshals.

The latter, however, kept the crowd at bay but in doing this they had some unpleasant experiences while they were busy with the crowd Mrs. Haines between her sons managed to throw a pan of hot water on one of them while the husband grappled with another.

At this crisis a number of United States marshals appeared on the scene, one of the city marshals, and several of the workmen under arrest, charged with conspiracy and intimidation. They gave bond before United States Commissioner Elliston to answer to the charge next Monday.

After doing this the city marshal once more proceeded to the lot and in the face of an unfriendly crowd finished the tearing down of the restaurant.

Haines and his wife retreated to a tent on the rear of the lot, owing to increased turbulence in the crowd, was not removed.

After the city marshal had finished the work of tearing down the restaurant and had disappeared, the crowd with many others proceeded to put the building up again. The street was soon blocked with several thousand people, and about a hundred willing hands with hammers and nails soon had the structure restored, the counters in and every thing in place.

Wiley Matthews Again.

OKLAHOMA, Mo., July 13.—The most sensational report received here since Wiley Matthews, the escaped jail knocker, who should have been hanged when he was executed here, made his escape, was one received from Arkansas that the outlaw had killed two men who had attempted to capture him. It was stated that the killing was done about thirty miles south of Kirbyville, in Boone County, Ark., and cable is given to the report by the fact that it is positively known here that Matthews had been seen a short time before the capture of the outlaw. It is said to have committed his latest crime. No details of the killing can be had at present, but the report is generally believed here, as Matthews was well armed when last seen.

Troops for Oklahoma.

FORT LEAVENWORTH, Kan., July 13.—General Miles, commanding the department of the Missouri, left last night for Oklahoma City accompanied by his aide, Lieutenant Swift. His departure to that point is understood to be due to telegrams that trouble was brewing there. Lot jumping is reported to be very active in that pursuit parties engaged have become very daring. A new crowd has called an election for city officers to be held July 16, and Mayor Couch has issued a proclamation warning all engaged in this work to desist, as violators of the peace of the community would be punished accordingly. Bloodshed is feared and troops may have to be used.

Appointments.

WASHINGTON, July 13.—The President has made the following appointments: Jesse Johnson, Attorney for the Eastern district of New York; Eugene Marshall, Attorney for the Northern district of Texas; Charles S. Varian, Attorney for Utah; Elias H. Parsons, Marshal for Utah; Lars P. Edholm, Judge of Probate in Morgan County, Utah.

Reserved His Remarks.

CHARLOTTE, N. C., July 13.—William Weddington, colored, was hanged here today for the murder of Policeman John Pierce of Monroe, Union County, May 5, 1888. He made no remarks on the scaffold. The eight-year-old son of Pierce witnessed the hanging of his father's slayer.

Wild Freight Cars.

PATERSON, N. J., July 13.—Nine freight cars were sidetracked about three o'clock yesterday morning half a mile above the Erie depot, and were left without the brakes being set. An hour later they started down the grade, jumping several switches, and finally crashed into a freight engine. The pilot and tender of the engine were smashed and three passenger coaches and two freight cars demolished. Fireman Joseph Gordon, of Jersey City, was caught between the tender and the fire box and one of his legs was hurled to the ground. He died at St. Joseph's Hospital. Engineer Davis escaped uninjured. The end of the depot was stove in.

Domestic Trains in Nebraska.

ANSLEY, Neb., July 13.—Joseph M. Moody, living fourteen miles from here, had trouble with his wife over his treatment of the children and she left him. Wednesday night he went to her father's house and shot her dead. Thursday his body was found several miles distant with a bullet hole in his head.

Thrown on His Head.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., July 13.—Pat Golden, of Pittsburgh, and Robert H. Parsons, wrestled for $600 a side here. Parsons won three out of five falls. During the last fall Golden was thrown on his head and severely injured.

AN ILL-FATED NAME.

Johnston, N. Y., the Scene of a Flood Disaster—A Large Number of People Go Down With a Bridge.

NEW YORK, July 10.—A message from Saratoga received last night stated that a washout at Alken, N. Y., three miles west of Amsterdam, had torn up 400 feet of track and cut off communication with the West. Whether the washout was caused by a cloudburst at Alken or by the breaking of a dam at Johnston, at Y., as rumored, could not be ascertained. Amsterdam reported an exceedingly heavy rain in that section just before communication was cut off. Alken is on the New York Central, and a creek which furnishes water power to several mills runs through the place.

Soon afterward reports reached here that a cyclone caused the disaster, while a more serious character was given to the story by indefinite but unfounded rumors of considerable loss of life.

Then came a report from Troy that it was rumored there that three big dams were washed away near Johnston and that crowds of people got on a bridge to watch the flood and it was carried away and several people were drowned. Johnston is on the Johnston & Gloverville railroad, four miles north of Fonda, but a complete prostration of wires made it impossible to communicate with Johnston.

A cloudburst washed away the Central railroad tracks between Alken and Triles Hill stations, about five miles west of Amsterdam, yesterday, just after the wreck of a freight train which blocked all four tracks in the morning had been cleared and delayed trains had begun to move both east and west. Some of them were caught by this new mishap and a second cloudburst occurred more serious than the first. The westbound limited and two other express trains were also blocked about three o'clock in the afternoon west back there between seven and eight o'clock and were sent west over the West Shore road. Some of the trains hurrying to make up lost time narrowly escaped the cloudburst, but at least one house was partially washed away, but no lives have been lost. There is no wire west of Fonda and there is a rumor that the storm extended to Johnston, in Fulton County.

MANY SOUVENIRS PROBABLY LOST. ALBANY, N. Y., July 10.—A special from Johnston last evening reported that a heavy rain had been falling since early in the afternoon. The down pour caused the Cayandanda creek to become a raging torrent, which did not stop until about 10 o'clock. The dam gave way, being unable to withstand the enormous pressure. On swept the torrent, taking with it the several skin factories along its banks, valued at many hundreds of dollars. A number of buildings and outhouses were also washed away. The Fonda, Johnston & Gloverville railroad loses some seven or eight bridges.

There was another bridge crossing the creek and on it viewing the flood were some thirty or forty people. The torrent increased in power as it advanced, and its foundation and buried them into the seething flood beneath. At this writing it is impossible to ascertain the number saved, but it is believed that many of them perished.

A portion of the Central Hudson railroad bridge was carried away almost bodily, taking with it the telegraph wires, so that it is almost impossible to hold communication between Fonda and the surrounding towns.

The electric light works situated a few miles from Johnston were flooded and the town was in darkness. Information from Fonda says the water is some three feet deep in the streets. Rain is still falling.

Dispatches received by the Central Hudson railroad officials in this city from Fonda contain but meager information. They did not vary in the main from the above. Trains from the west were considerably delayed in consequence of the flood.

FATAL FREIGHT WRECK.

Another Railroad Accident in the Calumet Region of Pennsylvania.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., July 10.—A freight train on the Pennsylvania railroad, consisting of thirty loaded cars and two locomotives, which left here at 8:30 o'clock Monday night for the East, was wrecked about two miles from Williamsport, twenty miles from here. Thirteen cars were completely demolished. The wreck immediately took fire and was entirely destroyed. The wreck was caused by a broken axle. As far as known, the accident resulted in the death of two persons and the injury of three others:

Killed—William Connelly, a bootblack, aged fifteen, of Pittsburgh; John Hole, a newsboy, aged fifteen, of Pittsburgh; an unknown man about twenty-five years old died at the hospital.

Injured—Andrew Kennedy, a newsboy, aged fourteen, of Pittsburgh, right arm and thigh broken, probably fatally hurt; Alfred Young, colored, aged twenty-five, of Lima, O., contused back and otherwise seriously injured; John Kennedy, aged twenty-four, of Williamsport, contused and bruised, will probably recover.

A number of others were reported to have been caught in the wreck, but no trace of them has yet been found. None of the train men were injured. The killed and injured were taken to the hospital. Kennedy and Young were stealing their way to Johnston.

A tramp who escaped said there were at least twenty-five people on the train, but no names can be found of their remains, if it is true, as it was scarce.

The damage will reach many thousands of dollars.
