

Contributions for Johnstown.

When Maysville was visited by the flood a few years ago she received aid in her hour of trouble.

The suffering here at that time was insignificant compared with the devastation and misery now existing in the Conemaugh Valley.

Maysville should add her mite to the relief fund now being collected throughout the country for the sufferers at Johnstown. As the city authorities have taken no action, any contributions left at the BULLETIN office will be promptly forwarded to the proper parties.

The Jacksonville Epidemic.

The Jacksonville Auxiliary Sanitary Association has published a report of the work of the association during the terrible yellow fever epidemic last fall. The report is in pamphlet form, containing over three hundred and fifty pages. A chronological summary of the doings of the association follows the introduction, after which are published statements from the various committees. The report is an interesting document, giving in detail a history of the excellent work of the association.

The financial report shows that the total receipts amounted to $510,829.90, the cash donations from the country at large footing up the sum of $345,440.13. The reimbursements by the U. S. Marine hospital service amounted to $165,107.77. The cash donations show how promptly and liberally the people of the country respond to the appeals for aid when any section is rendered desolate by epidemic or reduced to want and suffering by any great disaster.

The appendix embraces an itemized statement of the cash donations, with the name of the city from which they were forwarded and the name of the donors. In the list appear the following contributions credited to Maysville and Mason County:

Table with 2 columns: Donor Name, Amount. Includes Beasley Christian Church ($25.00), Central Presbyterian Church (16.10), etc.

Donations were received from nearly every State and Territory in the Union. Kentucky contributed $6,984.88. In the language of the report, "the donations indicate the boundless generosity of the American people."

HON. JAMES P. HARBESON has received a lengthy call from Fleming Democrats to become a candidate for County Judge of that county.

The Courier-Journal's Washington City correspondent says: "There is a question now before the Postmaster General the decision of which will affect all the Presidential offices, not only in Kentucky, but in the United States. The question to be decided is whether a postmaster's term of four years begins and expires from the oath of appointment or from the oath of confirmation. The ruling of the Department heretofore has been that the term of office began with the date of confirmation by the Senate."

TAXATION FOR SCHOOLS.

Recent Decisions of Superior Court and Court of Appeals on the Subject.

The Superintendent of Public Instruction has issued a circular containing the following abstracts of recent decisions by the Court of Appeals and Superior Court concerning taxation for building and repairing houses for common schools: First—Under the present school law the trustees of a common school district may order the collection of tax to build or repair a school house without submitting the question to the voters of the district, but it is a condition precedent of the right to order the tax that it is necessary to build a school-house, or that the County Superintendent has condemned the school house and that it needs repairing. Second—The Legislature has the constitutional power to authorize the trustees of a school district to order the collection of a tax, not to exceed a certain sum, without submitting the question to a popular vote. While the Legislature must always prescribe the rule under which taxation is imposed and can not refer this power to another body, yet having prescribed the rule it need not fix the exact sum to be raised or the particulars of the expenditure.

The decision of the Superior Court to the effect that railroads are not liable to a district school tax to aid in building a school house to the extent of the value of the road located within the district, has been affirmed by the Court of Appeals. Opinion filed May 3, 1889.

Tourists.

BULE LICK SPRINGS.

The Bulletin's Desha Valley Itemizer Writes of the Doings at This Summer Resort.

The Sunday School Convention advertised to meet here on the first day of June failed to materialize, but in lieu of it we had "The Sing," morning and evening, by Professor Jesse Summers and his classes from Blue Licks and contiguous points. The Professor is the last of the triumvirate of early singing masters which the writer knew in his boyhood days at Mayslick, the other two Dwight Baldwin and Walter Neal having made fortunes and gone into other pursuits. He is a well preserved man, who looks as though he was on the sunny side of fifty, the hair of his head jet black with a slight fall of snow in his goatees. His violin preludes and accompaniments, his commanding air, his encouraging "Be Bold Girls," "Now We Go," mark him as a distinguished master of his art. The Professor manipulates a fifty-year-old Cremona, which has grown comparatively resonant, and vibrates in harmony with his cultured voice. In a word he draws a sweet bow, and if you would hear his classes from Sugar Creek, Indian Creek, Pisgah, Fairview, and Blue Licks, rendering the "Triumphant songs" by Excel, in seven parts, or the lively sentimental tunes from "The Challenge," you would concur with a St. Louis visitor who said: "I am accustomed to a pipe organ and cornet in my home church but Summers and his violin and these country boys and girls make far sweeter music; and compel us to realize that "Song is a divine interpreter—To thee all secrets of all hearts belong," especially when evoked by the divine symphonies of the violin.

The pavilion gave a splendid dining Sunday to guests from all the neighboring towns. The writer had the pleasure of meeting Miss Lena Hawkins, sister of the landlord, a guest from Elizaville, also Misses Sallie and Lulu Hildreth, of Olivet, with their escorts, C. T. Saturated and W. S. Tilton, of Headquarters. Col. R. R. Maltby, wife and niece, Miss Hunter, of Washington, were here returning from a visit to Clark County. The Colonel says the blue grass zone is now in its glory, the prettiest belt of country. The loveliest landscapes he observed were between Winchester and Lexington. "How about the soil and crops in contrast with Mason?" we enquired. "Bourbon's, Clark's and Fayette's are much better farmers than the Mason's. They don't press their land, leaving most of it to luxuriate in the enriching and beautifying blue grass, while the Mason's dig and plow and hoe and burn until there is nothing green in sight save a corn blade or a tobacco leaf."

Ex-Representative John W. Campbell, of Carlisle, was here and had "the slog" to adjourn over till next Saturday when we have the promise of meeting Elder Kependoffer, James Chappell, Green Keller, Judge Ross and other Sunday school workers in convention, with their wives and children and well-filled baskets.

Mr. Hawkins has just shown me an order from I. G. Rose & Co., Indianapolis, for a carload of Blue Lick water—one hundred barrels. Make Blue Licks an invalid's retreat, with both houses and distinguished physicians, and it would soon become as famous North and South as the Hot Springs of Arkansas. J. E. H.

Warning.

The following telegram was received this morning by S. B. Oldham, and was handed to us for publication: DAYTON, O. June 6.—The following has been sent out by the Pennsylvania State Board of Health:

CAUTIONARY PROCLAMATION. The State Board of Health of Pennsylvania has satisfied itself by inspection that the waters of Conemaugh, Allegheny and Ohio rivers must be contaminated as a result of the disastrous flood at Johnstown. It, therefore, earnestly urges all persons who are obliged to depend on these streams for their water supply to use no water for household purposes which has not been previously boiled. By order of the Board.

BENJAMIN LEA, Secretary. Pasture Filters purify water better than boiling. Cannot fill orders long, but will fill orders from the above territory in preference to all others. Place them at once by telegram.

THE PASTEUR CHAMBERLAND FILTER CO. Mr. Oldham has put in about twenty of the above filters since the flood. They are the only perfect filter. Do not be deceived by a common stone jar with clay bottom which, however, he will show you also. The Pasteur will remove all impurities and make the water as pure and clear as a mountain spring, and more so. It does not cost nothing. For sale by Oldham, the plumber.
