

DAILY EVENING BULLETIN.

DAILY, EXCEPT SUNDAY.

ROSSER & MCCARTHY, Proprietors.

MONDAY, JUNE 10, 1889.

The receipts of the fire and marine insurance companies in Kentucky during the year 1888 were $95,323,987, while the expenditures for the same period were $87,893,931.59, showing a net profit of $7,430,055.41.

The list of the President's family relatives or connections already provided for at the public expense stands as follows to date:

- 1. The President's brother.
2. The President's father-in-law.
3. The father-in-law of the President's son.
4. The brother of the husband of the President's daughter.
5. The husband of the daughter of the President's brother.
6. The husband of the niece of the President's wife.

It's a good thing for some people to have a relative in the White House, especially if he is built like President Harrison.

An office-subsidized Protection journal informs the over-taxed workmen that there are a great many industries which need no protection against foreign products.

THE Mt. Sterling Sentinel-Democrat has some very caustic comments on the manner in which the pension office is being run by the present Commissioner.

Heretofore some show of decency has been made, but now there is a reckless disregard of the law.

The law is right, but Tanner's ruling is wrong. Here are some samples:

One case is reported where a soldier stole a bottle of whisky from an officer, got drunk, fell and injured his arm. He was allowed the same pension that a soldier gets who is wounded in battle.

On another occasion two soldiers engaged in a wrestling match, and one threw the other, injuring his collar bone. He was allowed a pension, there was no law whatever to justify it.

Recently a man applied for $13,000 back pension and $72 per month, because of blindness. He claimed in 1865, just before being mustered out of the service, he took cold while in Washington; that neuralgia resulted from the cold, and that blindness resulted from the neuralgia twenty years after the cold was contracted.

If this thing is permitted to go on for the next four years, the surplus will not only be exhausted but the country will be bankrupt. No one (not even rebel soldiers, so called) objects to paying the pensions justly due those who are entitled to them, under the law, but a great many people do object to being robbed for the benefit of deserters, scalliwags and looters.

Collections for Johnstown.

A collection amounting to $43.30 was taken up at the Christian Church, this city, yesterday morning for the Johnstown sufferers. The Young Ladies' Society of the church supplemented this with $10 of the proceeds from the apron bazaar.

MAYSLICK.

Items on the Wing From the Bulletin's Desha Valley Correspondent.

The candidates "boomers" are as numerous 'round this village as pig tracks, &c., 'round a country school house. The latest is to name the winners. Offers are made of ten to one to name six of the successful. A blanket will cover the contestants for one or two of the offices, and he is a shrewd fellow who can give the name of the lucky one.

Called to see Prof. Charlie May, who is now a prisoner in his room at the old Catholic Church. His special afflictions are a paralysis of the lower limbs and a lack of volition. His mind is as bright as of yore, and his anecdotal recollections, particularly of his great countryman Daniel Webster, very vivid.

Called on Judge Wilson and found him busy erecting one of Holton's patent yard gates. He had just finished a new pike, opening up a new entrance to his stable and crib lot. He has a fresh project on hand which has cost him much thought—the construction of a rat-mouse proof, thoroughly ventilated corn-crib for the storage of bread and seed corn, and the drying out of immature feeding ears. He has promised to show me his model when completed.

Jack Archdeacon is now one of the boss Democratic politicians. While his work is quiet and unseen, it is none the less effective. The candidates besiege him on every hand. He strikes from the shoulder. Elder G. W. Yancey is preaching to fine congregations. He says a good listener is as rare as a good reader. As a speaker, he is clear, pointed, logical, earnest and impressive.

Just heard of the death of Professor George Damon, the noted clarinetist, in his seventy-sixth year. We trust he will hear as sweet music in the next world as he gave his friends in this. Light lie the clouds on his breast, and green be the grass above his grave.

Miss Annie Laytham has gone East, and will take in the Baptist Association prior to her return.

Captain Jackson is booming the meeting by his presence and his fine bass voice.

Elder Small is the youngest "oldster" in the house. We saw him clear a seven-barred gate with the agility of a boy last Sunday.

CROP PROSPECTS.

Weekly Bulletin of the Kentucky State Weather Service in Cooperation with the U. S. Signal Service.

The past seven days have upon the whole been generally favorable to crop conditions throughout the State, although the deficiency of sunshine and the cool weather have retarded the growth of vegetation somewhat.

The prospects for small grain, corn and tobacco are much better now than it was thought they could be two weeks ago. There is still much complaint of a shortage of tobacco plants, but those which have been set out are growing finely.

Reports from the vicinity of Frankfort and Newtown show the presence of the "grain louse" there in the wheat. Oats, and grasses of all kinds show a decided improvement this week. Reports indicate that the corn crop in the eastern and northern portions of the State will be very fine.

Wheat harvesting is in progress in the vicinity of Franklin. At Shelbyville, hemp is reported to be in very fine condition.

There will be an abundant yield of fruits of all kinds.

A RIPLEY butcher recently found a black ball about the size of a base ball in the stomach of a cow. On opening the ball it was found to consist of course hair like that used for stuffing cushions and furniture, closely packed, says the Bee.
