

DUNDEE PLACE.

The CREAM of RESIDENCE PROPERTY.

High, Healthy and Free From all Smoke and Smell.

No ground in or adjoining the city so formed by nature, and provided with such conditions by the original owners as to make the place really first class.

The growth has been phenomenal and its desirability for a residence quarter towers far above that of any other addition in Omaha. Many ask why we call it Dundee Place. The name comes directly from Dundee Place, Kansas City, which was controlled by the owners of The Patrick Land Company. The money for the building in the Kansas City Dundee Place was furnished by a syndicate in Dundee, Scotland; hence its name. There was something like $2,000,000 loaned towards improving that tract of land which is today the most perfect and best settled residence part of the metropolis of the southwest. Our success there was all that we could wish. We made money ourselves, and everybody who bought the ground made money. Those who did not sell made in the advance in value. Some ground that was sold there for $30 per foot, has since been sold for $300. We are making the Omaha Dundee Place the same, and it is fast following its predecessor by name. The restrictions and conditions in each place were made alike at the start. Most fine residence additions are made exclusive by reason of the high prices. It is not so in the Omaha Dundee Place. The prices are extremely low, scarcely more than one-fourth of what fairly good residence property can be bought for in any other part of the city. The price of ground now is $25 per front foot for inside lots, $30 per front foot for corners. Call on us or write for full particulars. We will show the property at any time.

AD FOR THE SUFFERING.

It is to Be Offered Johnstown People by Omaha.

A VERY GRAPHIC TELEGRAM

The Horror of the Situation and Mayor Broatch's Energetic Efforts for a Relief Meeting To-Night.

The Johnstown Sufferers. Mayor Broatch yesterday morning issued the following appeal:

To the Public.

The following telegram was received by me this morning:

HEADQUARTERS JOHNSTOWN RELIEF COMMITTEE, PITTSBURG, Pa., June 3.—Mayor:

Reports from Johnstown grow worse and worse. Thousands of houses with families inside washed into a terrible heap and slowly burned, without a possibility of saving or rescuing the human beings cut off from aid for thirty hours. Thousands of lives and many millions of dollars are gone. May we not appeal to your generous city to aid the survivors—money and imperishable articles are sorely needed. Thieves only kept at bay by armed men. Please reply.

WILLIAM MCCHERY.

We are collecting funds, and will forward as fast as collected. Omaha deeply sympathizes with the afflicted.

W. J. BROATCH, Mayor.

Mayor Broatch immediately called upon a number of leading citizens, stated the substance of the telegram and solicited co-operation.

He was assured liberal aid in the charitable and worthy work.

There is a deep seated feeling of sympathy with the survivors of the great disaster and a profound respect over the great sacrifice of human life which has been occasioned by it. It is thought that the aid which in clothing and money will be forwarded will exceed anything in the line of aiding the unfortunate which has ever been done in this city.

The mayor announces that the Y. M. C. A. is soliciting subscriptions which it will transmit to the relief committee at Pittsburgh. Manager Hoyd has generously offered the opera house for a public meeting, which is called to take place to-morrow evening.

"Omaha," says the mayor, "has always been prompt and generous to respond to appeals made to her sympathies. This is the greatest calamity which has ever afflicted a people in these United States and it is believed our citizens will cheerfully and promptly respond. The immediate necessity for relief is imperative. Judge James W. Savage, Dr. George L. Miller, Hon. J. L. Webster and others will make addresses at the meeting."

A Benefit.

The proceeds of the opening performance of "Said Pasha" opera company will be devoted to the relief of the sufferers of the Johnstown calamity. The company opens at the Boyd on Monday evening, June 10. This move was mutually agreed upon by Manager Hoyd and the manager of the "Said Pasha" opera company.

Councilman Sander.

The family and friends of Councilman Sander are very anxious about him, fearing that he has been lost in the awful Johnstown catastrophe. Mr. Sander left for New York last Wednesday and was caught in some of the washouts on the Pennsylvania road, the details of which have already appeared in this Bee. Nothing has been heard direct from him, but his name appears among a list of saved passengers, reported by telegram in the morning papers, as arriving at Pittsburgh from Ebersberg Sunday.

Mrs. Sander, wife of the councilman, left yesterday morning for Peapillon, where she is on a visit to some friends. At the time of her leaving she had not heard anything concerning the danger or safety of her husband. Mrs. Sander was later communicated with at Peapillon, where she had gone to visit her sister-in-law, whose name is Sander also. She said that she had heard nothing of the danger in which her husband had been placed until she read the matter in the Bee. She said further that he had gone to New York to meet his son, aged sixteen years, who had just returned from Stuttgart, where he had been attending a celebrated university.

The news naturally occasioned a shock to Mrs. Sander, which it is thought can be overcome only by the safe return of her husband.

Free Express Transportation.

The following telegram explains itself:

CHICAGO, Ill., June 3, 1889.—L. A. Garner, Superintendent American Express Company, Omaha, Neb.: This company will transport, free of charge, to Pittsburg, its nearest office to Johnstown, Pa., any donations of clothing or money, which are made and shipped by duly authorized committees, named by citizens at various points. CHARLES HANCO, Second Vice Pres. and Gen. West'n Manager.

The Pacific and United States express companies will, by order of President Morrison, also carry free any money or merchandise for the relief of the sufferers by the floods in Pennsylvania.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank's Relatives.

Mrs. M. A. Frank, step-mother of Elmer and Alvin Frank, is almost prostrated at Elmer's residence over the news from Pennsylvania. Her parents, brothers and sisters, cousins, and in fact most of her relatives lived at that place. The lady feels that they have all fallen victims to the dreadful disaster.

Mrs. Frank and her husband came from Falls City, their home, to visit the boys, and the latter was subpoenaed as a witness on the Kit Carter cattle case, now before the United States court. Until that case is concluded it will be impossible for him to return home. As a consequence, both Mr. and Mrs. Frank are greatly moved over the unfortunate news.

Fear His Parents Perished.

The parents of George Higgins, who is with Himebaugh & Taylor, are residents of Johnstown, Pa., the scene of the recent destructive flood, and George fears that they are among the unfortunates swept away. Their home was right in the line of the flood and as he has heard nothing from them since the darkest forebodings. Not hearing from any of his relatives, they fear all have perished in the floods.

Miss Swobe.

Conductor Swobe's daughter left this city Wednesday night for Washington, and, as she would pass between Pittsburg, Pa., and Washington, D. C., during the Friday storm, Mr. Swobe, who has received no word from her, is very anxious about her welfare.

Mr. Thomas Howe's Friends.

Thomas Howe and sister, Miss Mary Howe of Johnstown, Pa., who have been spending two weeks visiting friends in South Omaha, started for home yesterday morning on the Great Northern. Not hearing from any of their family, they fear all have perished in the floods.

Pennsylvania Association.

All members of the Pennsylvania association are requested to meet at the board of directors on Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock for the purpose of taking some action in regard to the calamity at Johnstown.

During the epidemic of choleric dysentery in Proseque Isle county, Mich., last summer there were as many as nine deaths in one day, but not a single death occurred in cases where Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy was used. In several instances one small bottle of that remedy cured as many as three cases.

LOST THEIR FRANCHISES.

Has This Been the Result of the City Railway Controversy?

The various street railway injunction cases pending before Judges Doane and Wakeley have, with probably one exception, all been argued and submitted. Decisions on them are expected some day this week. However, so many affidavits, points of law and motions are now involved that the judges may desire to take more time in which to reach a conclusion. The Thirtieth street case was argued Saturday. In this the defendant, the Motor company, raised the question as to the right of the Horse Railway and Cable Tramway companies to consolidate.

One of the Motor company attorneys said, in conversation with a Bee reporter, "We have got them in the hole."

"You mean on the question of consolidation?"

"Yes, that's just what I mean."

"You hold it is not constitutional?"

"No. I hold that they have a constitutional right to consolidate, but by doing so they simply hold themselves up."

"That is, they cut off all their separate franchises, are left with only those streets now covered by tracks and cannot proceed to build any more extensions?"

"The point exactly. I contend that, under the constitution, each corporation forfeits its unoccupied franchises and cannot acquire new territory without a vote of the people. Those are the points given to the court and on which a decision will be given."

Jones against the Kitchen Brothers' Hotel company, is the title of a case which has been standing on the docket and been called for trial every day for a week. It will probably come up to-day or Wednesday. Dr. Jones had an office in the Paxton, but moved out of it. The lease, it appears, had not expired. In his claim he sets up that one of the conditions under which he first agreed to make a lease was that he should be given preference over all other physicians for the transient business of the hotel. This agreement, according to the doctor's story, was violated. They had lots of business, he alleges, but sent it elsewhere.

The case of Jensen for damages against the city of Omaha was taken up by Judge Doane. Mrs. Jensen is alleged to have been injured by falling into an open sewer trench on Hurt street about eighteen months ago. She asks for $2,000.

The case of the state against Blair, an appeal from the police court, where the defendant was found guilty of selling liquor on Sunday, was tried before Judge Hopewell yesterday, and the jury returned a verdict for the defendant.

August Gilchus began a suit in the district court yesterday against the city of South Omaha for $10,000. The complaint sets forth that on December 3 the plaintiff, while going from the South Omaha depot to his brother's house, fell from an embankment caused by street grading, and which, he alleges, the city knew to be in a dangerous condition. He received a broken ankle and an injury to his back, from which he will never recover, and for these, with the pain he suffered, he asks $10,000. The petition contains a prayer for a writ of habeas corpus from the corporation of the Magic City.

Oscar F. Jones began a suit to restrain Samuel J. Howells and William Coburn from levying on his property to recover a judgment for $120, obtained by Mr. Howells against the plaintiff.

George W. Adams has begun a suit to recover $25 attorney's fees from Carl Fensholt.

Volney W. Smith, who, in his petition filed in the district court alleges he is the owner of lot 7, block 21, Florence, asks the court to declare the claim of James M. Parker, a disputant to the property, to be null and void.

As a consequence, both Mr. and Mrs. Frank are greatly moved over the unfortunate news.

COUNCIL BLUFFS

Died of Heart Disease.

A sad and sudden death was that of Dr. J. E. Noor, of Omaha, who died about 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the office of Drs. Macrae & Thomas, on Pearl street. He had just come across the river to consult Dr. Macrae in regard to heart trouble. Sunday night he had a severe attack of angina pectoris, but recovered, and decided that he must see his instructor, under whom he had studied in the Omaha Medical college. When entered Dr. Macrae was engaged in his back room, and on entering the front office Dr. Noor was discovered gasping for breath. He was assisted to a lounge and soon breathed his last. His wife was notified and soon arrived here. She directed Undertaker Estep to hold the remains until this morning, when arrangements will be made to forward them to Glenwood, where they will be interred. Dr. Noor was forty years of age, and formerly practiced as a physician in the Omaha Medical college, and was graduated from that institution. He leaves a wife, but no children. A brother of the deceased was a skillful physician and highly respected both in this city and Omaha.

Pythian Day Programme.

The committee of arrangements has prepared the following programme for Pythian day at the Chautauqua grounds, on the 27th and 28th insts. All divisions, upon arrival in the city, will report to the adjutants at headquarters of Council Bluffs division, which is designated as reception headquarters. All lodges will report to
