The DelGrosso Family

Welcome to the second annual Altoona Mirror Basketball Classic.

For 22 years, the Big John Riley Classic matched the top seniors from Blair County and Cambria County. It was driven by Tom Riley in memory of his father, Big John Riley, the former local television personality and community leader.

The Mirror worked closely with Tom Riley in helping to select the players for the Classic and covering it since its inception.

When Tom died suddenly in November of 2005, we wanted to find a way that we can sustain his memory and the memory of his family while expanding the Classic to include more of the areas the Mirror has touched for many years in its coverage of high school sports.

We have proceeded with the blessing of his family, particularly his sister, Marla. (Please see pages 12 and 13 of this booklet for Marla's memories of her family).

We appreciate the coaches — Bellwood-Antis' Tim Keech, Williamsburg's Don Appleman, Penn Cambria's Bruce Frycklund and Westmont Hilltop's Jodi Hillegass — and the players who have given up their time to help make tonight a success.

We also thought this was an opportunity to celebrate high school basketball in Central Pennsylvania. To that end, we are grateful for the presence of honorary coaches Bernie Jubeck, John Frederick, Mike Fields and Sue Conner as well as honorary captains Nick Leasure, Chris (O'Connor) Lum, Krista Jay and Joe Nastasi.

These former outstanding coaches and players have truly made their marks on the basketball world and have proven what a great training ground Blair and surrounding counties can be.

We appreciate St. Francis University for serving as our host in addition to local referees, coordinated by Skip Dry, Pro Active Sports, DelGrosso Foods and the many sponsors who have supported our efforts.

All proceeds from the Mirror Classic will benefit the Big John Riley Scholarship Fund at St. Francis University.

As we build on a new tradition, we will never forget what Big John and Tom Riley meant to Altoona, Blair County, St. Francis and Central Pennsylvania.

Your support is most appreciated.

If you have any suggestions for the betterment of our mission, please feel free to contact me at (814) 946-7527.

Sincerely,

Neil Rudel

Fields, 245-109 in 13 seasons at Valley, was the Mirror's coach of the year in 1995 and '96 and the Associated Press small school coach of the year in '96.

He retired from Juniata Valley in 2003 and moved to California, but the game lured Fields back. He spent three seasons as a junior varsity coach at Chaparral High School in Temecula, Calif., and he's now the varsity coach at Mynderse Academy in Seneca Falls, N.Y.

Almost a quarter decade later, Lum remains the Lady Marauders' all-time scoring leader with 1,395 points and BG's fourth-leading career rebounder (623).

Riley family

BY MARLA RILEY LEVINE

Big John Riley spent his career as a radio and television personality in the Altoona-Johnstown market. Moreover, Big John devoted his life to giving of himself to others. He especially believed in empowering young people to reach their educational.

This mission statement was embraced by the entire Riley family, the results of which are manifested in the Altoona Mirror Basketball Classic in memory of Big John Riley, my father, and Tom Riley, my brother.

Big John was active in local community affairs for over 35 years until he fell ill and left his beloved Altoona way too soon. He was a major force behind keeping the Miss Pennsylvania Pageant in Altoona, and he served as co-producer and master of ceremonies.

His memberships included the Altoona Symphony, Blair County Heart Association, Altoona Optimist Club, Blair County unit of the American Cancer Society and countless other worthwhile organizations.

The common thread which ran through all of Big John's affiliations was his love for people and a genuine desire to make a difference through his celebrity. His devotion towards improving lives was memorialized when his alma mater, St Francis College, awarded him, posthumously, the honorary degree of Doctor of Humanities in 1983, for using, "his career in the service of others."

This was his legacy.

We all know behind every successful man is a great woman. Dee Riley was married to Big John for over 30 years. They were the quintessential public service couple, with Dee generously devoting her time to producing the Miss Pennsylvania Pageant, where she was recognized nationally for the state's leading edge production.

Dee spent her entire life bettering the lives of other women by supporting their growth and stressing education, all while raising her three beautiful children. During Big John's illness, and after his death, Dee worked hand in hand with Tom to keep the Big John Riley Classic alive, believing in the betterment of young people so deeply. She, too, fell ill and left us in July of 2001.

John Riley Jr., the eldest child of Big John and Dee, took the Riley family values south to Miami. John, a graduate of Bishop Guilfoyle and later Penn State, used his locally harvested education and became residing Vice President of Human Resources for Royal Caribbean Cruise Lines.

Always the champion of evenhandedness and opportunity, John effectively hired and managed thousands of people from the diverse cultures of the you at DelGrosso's Amusement Park or saw you at the Chef's Crab and Sea Fest, he was always out there making a difference for the people of Altoona.

His many affiliations included the Italian American Kitchen, Blair County Chapter of the Advisory Council to the Pennsylvania Human Relations Commission, Creative Youth Foundation, Allegheny Mountains Convention and Visitors Bureau and countless other worthy institutions. Tom passed away unexpectedly and way too soon at the age of 50 this past November.

With Tom's passing still fresh, it provides an appropriate backdrop to remember how special the Riley family is to the Altoona community. Tom worked tirelessly to keep the Classic alive after Dee's passing, and it is only fitting to honor him this evening.

To this end, and in order to keep the Riley legacy alive, the Altoona Mirror, with the support of the Riley family, will maintain the tradition of the "Classic" with the hope that these games and the associated scholarship will preserve the Riley family's ideals of love of people, love of family, love of school and love of life.

Big John devoted his life to giving of himself to others

Caribbean, South America, Asia and Europe. In effect, he was providing them with the prospect of a burgeoning future that otherwise may have not been afforded to them.

John always enjoyed coming to the Classic with his family when he lived in the Northeast. At the age of 42, John unexpectedly passed away from heart disease. John is remembered fondly by the people he touched.

Tom truly followed in his father's footsteps. Tom always admired the spotlight in which he saw his father and all the good that such a public figure brought to so many people.

He was ordained to carry the torch and serve as Altoona's next generation "favorite son."

Whether Tom made you laugh listening to his morning radio show, greeted
